VICTORIA MAN MURDERED IN ARIZONA

King Arrives On Island; To Be Feted By Liberals At Banquet Here To-night

Victoria Supporters of Mackenzie King Government Plan Rousing Reception for B.C. Cabinet Representative at Chamber of Commerce; Government Majority Over all Predicted by Minister on Arrival; Election Here to be Straight Two-party Fight.

Hon. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works and British Columbia's able representative in the Dominion Cabinet, arrived on Vancouver Island to-day and to-night will launch the Liberal campaign in Victoria when he is banqueted by Victoria Liberals. Dr. King went from Vancouver to Nanaimo this morning and is motoring south to this city this afternoon. His visit here will be brief as he plans to leave again for Vancouver on the night boat.

In Nanaimo to-day Dr. King reiterated his prediction that the Liberal Government would have a clear majority over all other parties in the next Parliament.

He based this forecast on the growing strength of the Government in Ontario and in the prairie provinces. Events of the last few weeks also had convinced him, he said, that British Columbia's Liberal delegation in the next Parliament would show a substantial increase as the people of this Province are realizing that the Conservative policy holds out little of use to them.

Preparations for to-night's banquet to Dr. King are completed now. The affair will be held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 7 p.m.

A large crowd and a rousing reception to Dr. King is anticipated. The minister is as well known here as he is in his own constituency of East Kootenay on account of his many years' residence in the city when he was a member of the Oliver Government.

NO LABOR NOMINEE
Liberals and Conservative candidates for the Victoria seat in the Federal House will be the only ones in the field as far as the Canadian Labor Party is concerned. It was decided at a meeting in the Harmony Hall last night. Such was the apathy of the majority of those who had given their support to the Labor Party here that only eighteen attended the meeting and for this reason, as much as any other, the party has decided against putting a candidate in the field.

A resolution was passed by unanimous vote that no political action be taken by the Party until such time as it is more thoroughly and strongly organized.

Political interest on the mainland centres chiefly to-day in Burrard, where the Conservative Party is (Continued on page 2)

ITALIAN PRINCESS WAS MARRIED TO-DAY
Mafalda, Daughter of King and Queen, Bride of Prince Phillip of Hesse.

Ceremonies Carried Out in Old Castle of Savoy Family at Racconigi.

Racconigi, Italy, Sept. 22.—With time-hallowed ritual Princess Mafalda, the youthful second daughter of the ruling house of Italy, to-day became the bride of Prince Phillip of Hesse.

Members of the royal families of Italy, Germany, Denmark, Greece, Rumania, Serbia, Belgium, Austria and Montenegro, and representatives of the dynasties of Britain and Spain witnessed the ceremonies.

The function of this morning in the great hall and chapel of the ancient Savoy castle of Racconigi was not only remarkable as a gathering of princes and princesses "of the blood," but also that it united the daughter of the Roman Catholic Italian royal family with the son of a Protestant German house, famed for its early welcoming of Lutheran reform.

MANY FLOWERS
The spacious marble paved ballroom of the castle had been especially transformed into a bower of flowers. The walls were covered with floral decorations. When the civil ceremony was performed.

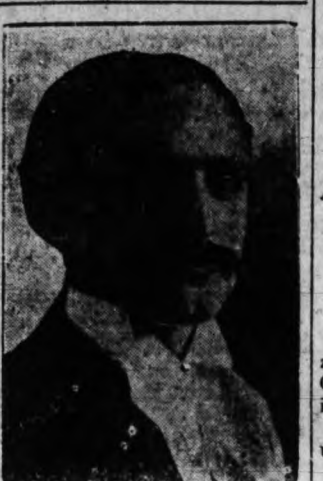

Ex-Calgary Man is Arrested in B.C.
Vancouver, Sept. 23.—George E. Clark, twenty-six, was arrested here by Detectives R. Macleod and W. G. Grant last night for the police of Calgary.

Calgary, Sept. 23.—George Clark, arrested in Vancouver, formerly was a motorman-conductor employed by the Calgary Street Railway. It is alleged he failed to account for the $50 ticket money advanced to conductors by the street railway and failed to turn in his uniform when he left for the B.C. coast a month ago.

An officer will be sent from Calgary to bring him back to stand trial on the two charges of theft.

Bootleggers' Fines Were $1,050 in All
Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—Three hefty bootleggers, members of one family, were assessed $1 a pound, or $1,050, here yesterday, when they pleaded guilty to charges of selling illicit liquor.

SPOKE IN MONTREAL; HON. P. J. A. CARDIN

Mr. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was a figure in the Eastern Canadian election campaign last night, addressing an audience in Montreal.

FOURTEEN BUILDINGS IN QUEBEC VILLAGE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Quebec, Sept. 23.—The village of St. Camille, Bellechasse County, was nearly wiped out by fire last night. The parish church, the office of La Banque Canadienne Nationale, six stores and six private residences fell prey to the flames and this morning they were nothing but a mass of ruins. The losses are said to be about $100,000.

Volunteer firemen fought for hours to prevent the spread of the flames. Their efforts were unsuccessful largely because of a high wind that whipped the conflagration into fury and spread the flames from house to house with startling rapidity.

Some of those who occupied the houses were able to save the more valuable of their household effects, but others lost all they owned and are being cared for to-day.

Smoke and flames were first seen issuing from a garage in the rear of the store owned by Audet & Co. An alarm was sounded on the bells of the Roman Catholic parish church and in a few minutes the volunteer fire fighters of the village were out in full strength. Streams of water were directed on the flames, but the fire was too intense for the fighters to keep some distance from the burning building.

The villagers, as soon as they saw the extent of the conflagration, hastened to assist those whose homes were in danger. In some cases they were able to get some of the household effects into the street, but many of these were destroyed before they could be carried to places of safety. None of the occupants of the houses were in danger.

Abbe Z. Raymond, curé of the parish, worked strenuously in an effort to direct the firemen and to cheer the villagers on to greater efforts. The sacred vessels were saved and the fire was prevented from spreading to the presbytery and convent, which stand near the church site.

PINEDO FLIGHT
Tokio, Sept. 23.—Dispatches received here to-day from Monko, Korea, say Commander Francesco de Pinedo, the Italian aviator, arrived there at 4 o'clock to-day from Shanghai.

Flooding Mine to Put Out Big Fire
Brisbane, Australia, Sept. 23.—Fire broke out in the Mount Morgan Mine recently and efforts to extinguish it have been vain. It has been decided to flood the mine and this operation will take three weeks.

WALTER A. SCOTT OF THIS CITY IS KILLED IN PHOENIX; NOTEBOOK REVEALS IDENTITY

American Police Ignorant of Murdered Man's Residence Until Notebook Containing Victoria Address is Discovered Three Weeks After Crime; Local Officers Start Search for His Friends and Relatives Here.

Walter A. Scott, of this city, was murdered in Phoenix, Arizona three weeks ago, according to information received by the City police department to-day after particulars of the dead man's identity had been discovered by American police.

Up to a late hour this afternoon City police here had been unable to find out anything about Scott.

Scott's connection with this city came to light only to-day, although he was murdered three weeks ago, according to telegraphic messages received late this afternoon. A note book belonging to the dead man and bearing the words, "Walter A. Scott, Victoria, B.C." was found by Arizona police this morning. They immediately telegraphed to Victoria asking for particulars of Scott's life here. So far City police have been unable to find out anything about him, however.

No particulars of Scott's murder are known here either. City police were not notified of the crime until the discovery of the notebook bearing the Victoria address to-day.

Immediately on receiving the news from Phoenix, City police commenced investigations in an effort to locate friends or relatives of the murdered man. No one in Phoenix knew him according to the Phoenix police.

TIMBER CRUISERS LOST NEAR ALBERNI
Anxiety for the safety of a timber cruiser party lost in the woods near the Alberni Canal is expressed in a message to the headquarters of the Provincial Police here to-day asking for search parties.

180 ROBBERS IN SHANGHAI TO BE HANGED IN PUBLIC
Execution of Twelve To-day Witnessed by Thousands; Six a Day Hereafter.

Shanghai, Sept. 23.—Twelve convicted armed Chinese robbers were executed publicly to-day after a parade of the condemned through the Nanking Road. The parade and the hangings were witnessed by thousands.

The executions will be continued to-morrow, and will be carried out at a rate of six daily until 180 condemned men now in jail here have been executed in accordance with death sentences handed down by mixed courts.

The sentences were not carried out previously because no Chinese authority had been functioning in Shanghai, but the appointment of Shing Shien, Manchurian commander, as ruler of the Shanghai area has made possible the resumption of the hangings.

The executions to-day took place at the Lungwa arsenal.

Over 400 Parliamentarians Of Nations To Visit Ottawa
The subjects discussed at the coming meeting in Washington and Ottawa will be made the base of recommendations to the League of Nations and to the governments of the respective countries represented in the Union.

The Canadian group, with the consent of the Government and Parliament, extended an invitation to the Union to hold two sessions here and toward defraying the expense an initial vote of $10,000 has been made.

The carrying out of the Canadian programme is in the hands of Senator N. A. Belcourt, president of the Canadian group; Sir Henry Drayton, vice-president; Senator G. V. White and Thomas Venn, former M.P., who is now a member of the Railway Commission of Canada, the latter two being secretaries.

TO GO TO WASHINGTON
These will go to Washington and others who are expected to go are Sir Robert Borden, Sir George Foster, Sir James Loughheed, Senator Smoot, White, Andrew R. McMaster, ex-M.P., and Senators McMeans, Casgrain, Reaugh, Willoughby and a few others.

COAL TRADE GIVES PROOF OF BUSINESS REVIVAL IN CANADA

Winnipeg, Sept. 23.—As an indication of the revival of business throughout Western Canada, figures showing the purchase of coal for domestic consumption and general commercial uses were made available here to-day. On Tuesday of this week there was loaded on western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway 6,678 tons of commercial coal, as against 1,495 tons on the same day last year.

State Prison Farm Was Scene of Fire
Bridgewater, Mass., Sept. 23.—Inmates of the state prison farm here escaped injury to-day when fire destroyed three large barns and four silos. The loss is estimated at $20,000. There was no disorder. The fire, starting in one of the cow barns, soon swept through half a dozen structures housing the state farm cattle.

SHAM BATTLE IN BRITAIN DOMINATED BY AIR FIGHTERS
Observers Declare Aeroplanes Carrying All Before Them in Army Manoeuvres

Heavy Rain Impedes Action of Troops; London is Prize of Mimic War

London, Sept. 23.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Field Marshal Earl Haig and a group of brilliant military officers with him would all have been dead men if the sham battle were a real battle and if they had occupied the "dangerous" position they did yesterday, as they were spotted by no fewer than nine aeroplanes which could have ended their careers there and then. However, being merely spectators of the mimic warfare, they were not even ruled "out of action."

According to newspaper writers who are more or less military men, the aeroplanes are carrying everything before them in the clash of arms on which the fate of London is supposed to depend.

NOTICES ON BRIDGES
Among the humors of the manoeuvres are notices posted up on bridges signifying the "bridges have been destroyed by gunfire," but the notices are being obliterated by a heavy rain. It is announced rumormongers are being served daily while the manoeuvres last.

It hardly needs an open avowal from such a military notability as Field Marshal Sir William Robertson to convince laymen that the manoeuvres, how ever ably conducted, can bear only a very faint resemblance to war.

Speakers turned out by the thousands the first day, but the rain sent most of them home before the manoeuvres were ended.

Major-General J. H. MacBrien, Canadian Chief of Staff, is a guest of the umpires of the manoeuvres.

SCANTY SWIM SUITS TROUBLING WAIKIKI
Honolulu, Sept. 23.—Nine of the fourteen persons arrested at Waikiki Beach charged with violation of the Deahu Law, which regulates costumes to be worn by bathers, pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentences of thirteen months.

C.P.R. HEAD URGES LINE THROUGH ROCKIES TO OPEN UP NORTHERN HINTERLAND

Supports Oliver's Strong Opposition to Short Cut-off Line From Peace River Southward, East of Mountains; Road Through Northern B.C. Offers Far Greater Possibilities of Development, He Declares on Arrival Here.

E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, here to-day on his regular annual tour of inspection, declares that rail connection between the Pacific Coast and the great Peace River district will open up a land of tremendous resources and should make possible tremendous development. Mr. Beatty added that the Pine or Peace Pass route through the Rockies is the best method of opening up the northern hinterland.

Mr. Beatty, together with members of his party which has been traveling with him across Canada, arrived on afternoon boat from Vancouver. He will spend a short time in this city, and will make a tour of the Island.

He is accompanied by several directors of the company: Sir Herbert Samuel Holt, Ross H. McMaster, Frederick W. Molson and E. E. Meredith.

Mr. Beatty's statements relative to the route through the northern British Columbia interior and to the Peace River district are in accord with the views of the British Columbia Government as laid before the Federal Government some months ago. Premier John Oliver's views, now publicly endorsed by Mr. Beatty, is that the construction of a short cut-off road from the Peace River country to the Canadian National line east of the Rockies would postpone the permanent solution of the Peace River's problems by a railway through the northern British Columbia.

The Canadian Pacific Railway President declared to-day that a great part of Canada's railway problem has been incurred in building railways prematurely or in the wrong place. His own company had made mistakes in this connection, he admitted. He did not try to excuse them. He stressed the fact that the route through either the Bruce or Obed cut-offs did not open up the amount of territory that lines through the Peace or Pine Passes would do.

PRINCE SIEFFELDINE IN CONSTANTINOPLE
London, Sept. 23.—A Reuter dispatch from Constantinople states Prince Ahmed Sieffeldine brother-in-law of King Fuad of Egypt, landed in Constantinople Monday. The prince recently escaped from an asylum in England.

KEG ATTACHED TO MAN'S BODY FOUND FLOATING IN SEA
San Pedro, Cal., Sept. 23.—A tangle of water keg attached to the body of a man found floating in a bed of kelp forty miles southwest of San Diego mystified police. The body is believed to be that of "Liverpool Hans" Christensen, skipper of a fishing boat who was reported lost overboard in rough weather recently, but the keg has not been explained.

LLOYD GEORGE DENIES HE IS LAND OFFENDER
London, Sept. 23.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Mr. Lloyd George has sent a sharp letter to The London Morning Post in answer to that paper's comment on his speech at Exeter recently, when he outlined the new Liberal land policy.

The Post twitted Mr. Lloyd George with condemning those who had deprived the agricultural laborers of their rights over the common land while he himself was the owner of an estate in Surrey, of which more than one-half at one time had been common land.

Mr. Lloyd George replies to The Post by saying the land in question may have been common at one time, which was true of a very large proportion of the lands in England, but when he took it over to build a house upon it, it was a game preserve, hedged off and heavily stocked with pheasants.

SPANISH MOROCCAN TROOPS MAKE GAINS
Madrid, Sept. 23.—It is officially announced that the Spanish forces operating in the Alhucemas sector have advanced and occupied Morrostejo, Malmusi and Curenas Xauen.

TUG WAS BURNED AND SAILORS WERE SAVED
Steamer Passed Men Adrift in Lifeboat in Waters North of Vancouver

Vancouver, Sept. 23.—Burned to the waterline her engine had backfired, the Vancouver tug Prospect Point sank on Monday night off the British Columbia coast north of here. It was lost to-day.

H. Bruno, the owner, said that while the members of the crew, who were within a lifeboat, were within the area brightly lit up by the blazing vessel, a large steamer passed them northward and paid no attention to their signals for assistance.

The Prospect Point was valued at $12,000 and was only partially insured.

FRENCH DEBT MISSION IN U.S.
New York, Sept. 23.—Expressing confidence that the French war debt to the United States could be settled "upon the basis of peace and righteousness," Joseph Caillaux, French Finance Minister, arrived here on the steamship Paris to-day as the head of the French debt commission sent to Washington.

"I have come accompanied by assistant members of all political parties in the French Parliament," he said in a prepared statement handed to newspapermen who boarded the Paris at quarantine. "To bring a settlement of our debt. There is no instance in history in which France has failed to do so."

REGISTER EARLY
FOR ELECTION POLL
OFFICIAL URGES
Citizens Must Place Names
on Federal List as Soon as Possible
Registration Offices Will
Open To-morrow in Downtown District
H. Alan Maclean, returning officer for the Victoria electoral district, urged this morning that the people whose names do not appear on the Provincial voter's list approach the registrars of their respective polling divisions and have their names placed on the Federal list without delay. The registration offices open to-morrow.
"To-morrow will be the first day of registration for those persons who are not included on the Provincial voters' list," said Mr. Maclean. "It would urge that registration be completed as early as possible to avoid a last day rush and possible delay
and inconvenience."
Each ward will have a registrar
and office in the downtown district and those intending to register must go to the right ward office.
The names of the additional voters will be added to those already arranged on the Provincial voter's list,
and on election day these persons must look for their names at the end of the list. In the "A" list, the late registrations will follow the last names on the "A" list, and so on alphabetically, it was explained by
Mr. Maclean to-day.

EDUCATION SURVEY TO STRIKE KEY OF UNION'S ATTITUDE
Convention Passes Schools
Question Over to Incoming
Executive
The Union of Municipalities declared a temporary "hands off" policy towards educational matters yesterday afternoon,
pending the publication of the report of the Educational Survey Commission. All matters were referred to the new executive committee, to be elected this evening. This body will draft recommendations, to be placed before the Government, after making a study of the commission's report.
Many delegates were convinced that council should have some control of the matter for schools, but Reeve
Maclean, of Burnaby, and Alderman
Marchant, of Victoria, opposed addition of further burdens to the councils. The latter pointed out that in the eyes of members of the councils, the costs to be laid on the shoulders of the ratepayers would loom unduly in comparison with the educational benefits accruing.
METHODS OF TAXATION
President Lockley pointed out that the Union "is not against the best education possible. Our fight for many years past has been against the inequitable taxation methods."
W. A. Gordon of Revelstoke demanded "Why let the center free of the cost of the schools which educate his children, while his neighbor pays the charges for his own family and the center is taxed?" He favored a tax upon all earnings, specifically for educational purposes, and thereby arouse the warm opposition of Alderman Woodward.
It was on the motion of Reeve Mac-nicol of Saanich that the matter was left to the incoming executive committee.

ITALIAN PRINCESS WAS MARRIED TO-DAY
The bridal procession was headed by King Victor Emmanuel, with Princess Mafalda on his arm, and
Prince Philip accompanying Queen Helena. They were followed into the bride hall by the guests. The king,
the queen, and Queen Mother Margarita took seats in arm chairs on one side of a red velvet covered table and Princess Mafalda, Prince Philip,
Premier Mussolini and former President Tittoni, sat on the other side.
The king and queen, the marriage articles of the civil code, after which the marriage contract was signed with a gold pen by the bride and groom, and by the king and queen
as witnesses.
When the civil ceremony had ended,
the wedding party again marched through the halls of the castle to the chapel on the ground floor, where the brief but solemn ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church was performed by Monsignor Bectearia,
chaplain of the Court of Italy.
Because of the difference of the religion of the bride and groom, the nuptial mass was omitted, but otherwise the ceremony conformed to the Catholic ritual.

GIFTS NUMEROUS
The gifts to the bride couple were numerous and beautiful. Among them is a massive silver statue of the Tyrrhenian Neptune, the ancient God of the Adriatic, the work of the sculptor Giambologna. It was sent with the compliments of the Italian Government. The Senate sent a beautiful example of Renaissance furniture; Premier Mussolini, two silver vases; the city of Rome, an antique vase mounted on a column;
the City of Turin, a painting by Grosio; the employees of the Royal Household, a silver table centre.
Most of the gifts are objects of art,
such as paintings, statues and tapestries.

FIRE CHIEFS OPPOSE

SALE OF FIREWORKS

Seattle, Sept. 23.—The thirty-second annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs, in session here yesterday, adopted a resolution calling for uniform state laws barring all sale or use of fireworks.

While several Pacific Coast cities at present have anti-fireworks ordinances, these are rendered of little use, it was pointed out, because the explosives are sold outside the limits of the cities.

A resolution of Chief Lee G. Holden of Portland, Ore., directing Pacific Coast delegates to the international convention of fire chiefs at Louisville, to throw their strength behind a national fire prevention campaign, was unanimously passed.

AUDIENCE IN
MONCTON CITY
HEAR PREMIER

King Addresses Two Crowded Halls in Southeastern New Brunswick Centre

Says Maritime Provinces Have Right to Great Market in United States

Moncton, N.B., Sept. 23.—With two addresses here last night, Premier King brought to a conclusion his tour of the Maritime Provinces. The series of meetings, extending over one week, was highly successful, large audiences greeting the Prime Minister at all the points visited and listening attentively to his clear exposition of the policies on which the Government is applying to the people in the general election.

The audiences addressed by Mr. King here last night crowded high halls in which the meetings were held, the Premier being given an enthusiastic reception.

He declared that in preaching "blue ruin," the Conservatives were proceeding on the theory that "if you state an untruth often enough people will believe it."

"That may seem strong," Mr. King added, "but I am prepared to back what I say."

MARITIME RIGHTS

Dealing with conditions in the Maritime Provinces, he said:

"Mr. Meighen talks of Maritime rights. He says I am asking what Maritime rights are. Well, if there is one right to which you are entitled, it is a right to the great market to the south of us, right at your door. When we tried to give you that market, Mr. Meighen and his friends took it from you."

FEWER MIGRATING

He said some of the statements reported to have been made at Mr. Meighen's Moncton meeting Monday night were untrue. He quoted United States figures to show the migration of Canadians to the United States had dropped fifty per cent. in the last twelve months.

WEST INDIES TREATY

He turned to Mr. Meighen's attitude on the West Indies Treaty. At first, said Mr. King, Mr. Meighen had asserted there was no treaty. Then he had said he had not seen it.

"I am happy to say," said the Prime Minister, "that as I passed through Sussex Tuesday I presented with a copy of it."

NATIONAL RAILWAYS

He challenged Mr. Meighen to say that in placing the National Railways under an independent board of directors, free from political control, the Government had been wrong.

Mr. King denied a statement reported to have been made by Mr. Meighen that the Government had established Crow's Nest Pass rates.

"Mr. Meighen won't tell them that story in the West," Mr. King asserted.

Who would say, Mr. King asked, that the ruling of the Railway Board establishing Crow's Nest rates on westbound grain was not right and just?

RAILWORKERS' PENSIONS

Mr. King referred to the Grand Trunk Railway strike of over a decade ago and to efforts made to have pensioning restored to the strikers in accordance with the strike settlement. He told the meeting that when the Grand Trunk purchase agreement was before the House of Commons he sought to have a clause inserted which would have required the Grand Trunk to restore the pensions.

"My resolution," he said, "was voted down by Mr. Meighen and his friends."

"When we came into office," the Premier went on, "I sent word to the Grand Trunk and the Canadian National that unless we could get a settlement voluntarily, legislation would be brought down in a hurry. The result was that before we had been in office more than a few months every dollar owing to these men was paid."

Ontario Doctor

Claims He Has
Cure For Cancer

London, Ont., Sept. 23.—Dr. W. T. Galbraith, veteran surgeon, held out after five years of experiment he has discovered a cure for cancer. So positive was Dr. Galbraith about his cure called "insin," that he injected cancer virus into himself last Fall, and then proceeded to cure it with "insin."

"This substance," says Dr. Galbraith, "administered when cancer has developed, has broken it down. It is now a preventive, and brings immunity. We have experimented with dogs, horses and goats, and we feel we have at last reached our goal, a cure for cancer."

Arms Conference

Preparations Made

Geneva, Sept. 23.—Confirming the plans of the leaders, the League of Nations assembly yesterday laid the foundations of future international disarmament and economic conferences. The disarmament committee adopted a resolution whereby the League Council will make a preparatory study for a conference for the reduction and limitation of armaments so that as soon as general European security has been achieved a conference will be convened in order that "a general reduction and limitation of armaments may be realized."

As for an economic conference, the resolution drafted invited the Council to examine at the earliest possible opportunity the creation of the widest basis of a special committee to prepare the work for an international conference, which should examine into the economic difficulties standing in the way of the restoration of general prosperity and discover the best method of surmounting differences and avoiding disputes.

M. Loucheur of France, who initiated the economic conference project, announced last night that he would expect the Council to take definite action at the December session.

M. Joubaux, French Labor leader, declared the economic situation throughout the world was grave and should not be concealed from the people.

"The projected conference," he said, "will bring out those truths the people have a right to know and puts its finger on points of friction and agreement."

COWICHAN GOLFERS
PLAY AT NANAIMO

Special to The Times

Duncan, Sept. 23.—A team of twelve players from the "B" division of the Cowichan Golf Club visited Nanaimo Sunday. The matches were quite close and the games thoroughly enjoyed. In the singles the points came out even at 18 each side. In the four-ball contest, however, Nanaimo won out by 12 to 6.

The following are the scores:

SINGLES	Nanaimo	Cowichan
Wilkinson	0	0
Patterson	0	0
Thompson	0	0
Kilby	0	0
Oleson	2 1/2	0
Dow	2 1/2	0
Galbraith	3	0
Malpass	3	0
Wright	3	0

FOURBALL	Nanaimo	Cowichan
Stepney and Reed	1 1/2	0
Dickie and Hilton	1 1/2	0
H. Helen and Whelan	2	0
Harper and Bradshaw	1 1/2	0
Murphy and O'Neill	1 1/2	0
H. L. Helen and Heggie	1 1/2	0

Result: Nanaimo 5 points up.

The monthly meeting of the Cowichan Golf Club took place on Monday. The chairman reported that satisfactory arrangements had been made with the bank to meet the temporary rather heavy call on the exchequer. New members elected were Mrs. L. H. Hogan, Miss Phoebe Hogan and Miss Naden. The captain reported that the greens committee had recently been all over the course and found it very satisfactory. Several suggestions were made for the improvement of approaches to Nos. 5 and 7 greens, and the filling in on the right hand of No. 4. Many competitions will shortly take place with Chemainus, Upland and Nanaimo. Those present at the meeting were K. F. Duncan, chairman; John Fox, W. L. B. Young, W. R. Powell, H. R. Pursett and E. W. Carr-Hilton, secretary.

Shawnigan News

Special to The Times

Shawnigan, Sept. 23.—The Anglican Church of All Saints held a harvest thanksgiving service on Sunday morning. Rev. Cockshot, vicar of Cowichan Station Church, took the services, preaching an inspiring sermon, rendering thanks for the abundant harvest of grain, fruit and vegetables. The attendance was very large and the church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruits and vegetables contributed by the members of the congregation. Mrs. Gordon Hunter contributing a wonderful collection. All the produce was sent to the hospital after the service. Great credit is due Mrs. Furlong, Mrs. Gooch and Mr. and Mrs. Millard for the decoration of the church. Rev. Cockshot tendered thanks to the ladies who sent the fruits, flowers and vegetables.

Notice was given that St. John's Church, Cobble Hill, will reopen on Sunday after being closed for a lengthy period.

Church of England services are being held every Sunday at Bamerton. Mrs. Walford-Gomoid, lay reader, takes the services and there is a large attendance.

The many friends of Rev. M. T. Habershow will learn with regret that he will be leaving the lake shortly, but at the same time will be glad to know that the reason is a call to assume the pastorate of the Junction City Baptist Church, Oregon, Junction City is a suburb of Eugene, Oregon and the church is a thriving one. Rev. Habershow has been an active worker while residing at the lake, conducting a weekly service in the S.L.A.A. Hall and in conjunction with Mrs. Habershow, started a Sunday school with an average attendance of twenty-five children. The adult service always drew a large audience and the departure of Mr. Habershow and family will be keenly felt. Rev. Habershow has been a Baptist minister in Western Canada for the past eighteen years, six of which were spent in Victoria at the Douglas Street Baptist Church.

Mr. Killam, secretary to the B.C. Library Commission paid an official visit to the Shawnigan Public Library on Saturday and was met by the board of directors.

DR. KING

VICTORIA HEARTILY welcomes Hon. J. H. King on the occasion of his visit here today. His practical interest in the welfare of Victoria virtually gives him the status of unofficial member and minister for this constituency. As a member of the provincial administration until his translation to the wider field of public service, during which his long residence here enabled him to familiarize himself with local needs, he always manifested a readiness to assist Victoria's development to the utmost of his ability. How he has continued to regard the future of this port, to recognize its right to become a pivotal point in the realm of the country's trade and commerce, is amply emphasized in the support which he has lent to the establishment here of elevators and a lumber assembly plant. As Minister of Public Works for the Dominion of Canada, the representative from this Province in the Government, it is easy to understand the magnitude of Dr. King's task. His is the greatest spending department of the public service and, as such, the most wooed of any. But in the comparative ease and promptitude with which Parliament approved the estimates of his office is reflected the personal and official popularity of the Minister of Public Works. His service to Victoria is thus all the more appreciated by the people of this community, and he will be assured of a warm welcome when he arrives here this evening.

PUBLICITY AND CRIME

BY REFUSING TO consider an application made to him in Supreme Court Chambers to transfer to his private chambers a case in which a story of domestic infidelity was unfolded, with parents waging a legal battle for the custody of a nine-year-old boy, Mr. Justice Gregory recognized the power of publicity as a deterrent to crime or misdemeanors. The realization by quarrelling families that when they went to law their affairs would be aired in open court, His Lordship intimated, should tend to make them strive harder for that reconciliation which would be better for all parties concerned particularly when children figure in the case. On these grounds Mr. Justice Gregory refused to hold a camera sitting where reporters would be barred, and his broadminded views are worthy of consideration by less important public men who would, if permitted, bar from the public, for some reasons of their own, that news which it is the duty of newspapers to give to the public. Mr. Justice Gregory recognizes that in the matter of preventing crime, or more particularly those misdemeanors which may not be classed as crime, the press may be more powerful than the law itself. Punishment and the payment of a fine to many people is less feared than the limelight of publicity. While they would commit breaches of the criminal or moral code without hesitation, if it were only the punishment which the law metes out that they had to fear, they would hesitate on the brink when they knew that through a hearing in the open court their actions would be made known to their fellow-citizens. Unthinking citizens are too aptly inclined to treat as scandal legitimate news of this nature. In the case in question columns of that news which the public describes as scandal could have been written. As it was the case was heard in open court with the sordid details omitted. This, His Lordship will agree, conforms to public propriety. Yet critical readers will continue to class such news as scandal and criticize accordingly.

THE CIVIC CONVENTION

DELEGATES TO THE annual gathering of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities now in session in this city seem to be thoroughly optimistic about the general condition of this Province at the present time. They will not admit that every organized district is altogether out of the financial woods. The effect of the war, the economic slump, which followed it, financing methods which seemed sound enough in an earlier period of commercial buoyancy, have left a mark. At the same time the address of Inspector of Municipalities Robert Baird contained ample evidence that ordinary wisdom in civic government in all its aspects in the future will assure to British Columbia municipal prosperity of a solid nature.

Every convention of this kind lends additional emphasis to the profit which follows the free discussion of various problems associated with civic administration. It furnishes an excellent training ground to the public servant who has not had a great deal of experience in these matters, while it permits the city father who can look back upon many a council chamber battle to acquire new and more vigorous points of view. And while the delegates are in Victoria it is to be hoped that they will be able to find some time for pleasant recreation.

BEING IMPARTIAL

THE VANCOUVER Province informs its readers that Mr. Meighen says Mr. Mackenzie King is ruining the country and that Mr. Mackenzie King says it is Mr. Meighen and asks why the matter with "these gentlemen." Why use the plural? Mr. King is shedding no tears. He is merely warning the country that it ought to keep Mr. Meighen out of office for its own sake. Mr. Meighen, however, says the country has gone to the dogs already and will complete the debacle if the present Government is sustained. On the other hand, as The Province points out, "the country goes on its way just as if it were not a ruined country at all, goes on its way harvesting a record wheat crop, drawing plans for new buildings, feeling the new blood of a renewed business optimism in its veins, behaving for all the world as if Canada were a pretty decent place to be living in." This is what Mr. King has been saying ever since the campaign started. Why tar him and Mr. Meighen with the same brush when one is crying blue ruin and the other drawing his inspiration and optimism from actual prosperous conditions obtaining?

"STOOL PIGEONS" AGAIN

NO DOUBT ATTORNEY-General Manson would be perfectly willing to turn over the administration of the liquor laws to the municipalities if it were possible. But the most he can do under the existing circumstances is to entrust the task of enforcing the Act to the authorities in the organized districts. When he has reason to believe that the law is not being respected in these districts, either through lack of civic vigilance or other unusual conditions, he reserves the right—as provided by the Act—to send provincial officers to the assistance of the municipality involved and charge it with the costs entailed.

At yesterday afternoon's session of the Union of B.C. Municipalities this particular phase of liquor law administration and enforcement came in for a somewhat heated discussion. Quite a number of the delegates took a decided objection to the employment of "operatives" by the Liquor Board, suggesting, incidentally, that if it has knowledge of infractions, it should notify the offending municipality before taking a hand in the business itself. Those advocating such a course are naturally sincere in their desire for the maintenance of law and order; but their objection to the employment of methods common to the world over is not in harmony with that desire. Warning the municipality that, if it does not enforce the law, "operatives" will be sent would be nothing more than a sort of dignified "tip-off" and a hint to guilty parties to lie low for the time being.

It must be admitted that the liquor law is an extremely difficult one to administer and enforce. Its problems are not confined to British Columbia by any manner of means. In spite of the much freer sale of alcoholic stimulants in Great Britain the police of every community is compelled to keep its weather eye open for violations of licensing regulations. Scotland Yard has its work cut out in London. Some of the most fashionable night and other clubs are often "patronized" by amiable-looking gentlemen in faultless raiment whose duty it is to mingle with the throng and "observe." These are neither what could be called regular force men nor even policemen in disguise; they are, for the want of a better word, "stool pigeons" who have gone through a sort of training for that particular occupation. They prepare the way for the "Yard." Consequently, if that institution still finds it essential to use these methods in its business of crime detection, there is no reason why the Liquor Control Board of British Columbia should have any qualms about following its example.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

When a man does a noble act, date him from that. Forget his faults. Let his noble act be the standpoint from which you regard him. There is much that is good in the worst of men. —Belows.

There is only one stimulant that never fails and yet never intoxicates—duty. Duty puts a blue sky over every man—up to his heart, maybe—into which the skylark, Happiness, always goes singing. —Pretence.

All invention is realized science. —Chase.

All high and grand emotions scorn the tongue that lies as helpless in the mouth as would be artillery to express the sound and grandeur of mountain thunders in tropical storms. —Beecher.

The main token of a strong character is not to make known every change and mood in thought and feeling, but to give the world the finished result. —Auerbach.

A man can bear a world's contempt when he has that within Which says he's worthy. —Smith.

What our enemies say ought not to be taken as evidence. —Logan.

We live in the world only for the opinions of the good and noble. —Kane.

In the moral life conscience predominates. —Brooks.

SERIOUS CHARGES IN N. VANCOUVER ELECTION PROTEST

Permission to Enter New Particulars Granted To-day

Permission to serve further particulars and to call from the Deputy Provincial Secretary for the production of ballot papers was granted by Mr. Justice Gregory in Supreme Court Chambers to-day on the application of Oscar Bass in the North Vancouver election petition disputing the return of the sitting Liberal member, J. M. Bryan. Douglas Armour, K.C., and J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., were given five days' time to answer the particulars and a trial date will be set later. Douglas Armour pointed out that when the petition was first filed he asked for particulars. That was February 29. They were served on February 27. From that time until now nothing further had been done. Now on the eve of the trial they sought to amend the petition. "I only got my particulars last night," remarked Mr. Farris. "There are serious charges in these particulars," remarked His Lordship as he scanned them. "I see corruption mentioned here."

On Mr. Armour asking that if the particulars were allowed to be filed he should be given time to study them, Mr. Justice Gregory remarked that in view of their serious nature five days would be little enough.

Would Have Ancient Provincial Claims Wiped Out by Tax Sale Process

Waterworks Lands Not So Used

The Union of Municipalities this morning went on record as "opposed to the principle of succession duty liens as now defined in the Succession Duties Act in so far as they have been applied as an incumbrance on lands sold by municipalities for non-payment of taxes as tending to nullify the purpose and effect of the acts giving to municipalities the rights and powers of the sale of lands for delinquent taxes."

The resolution was introduced by Vancouver, the preamble reciting the troubles incident to application of the succession duties liens to estates of all persons dying since 1894, and setting against properties which have passed through many hands in the interim. The object is to insure clear title to properties purchased at tax sales, such sales automatically wiping out all Provincial liens for succession duties.

FAVORS EXEMPTION

When debate preceded adoption by a 23-17 vote of the request of North Vancouver City for power to municipalities, by a three-fifths vote of the council, to grant tax exemption on its lands, owned by other municipalities for water purposes, though not actually used for such purposes. Reeve Macleod of Saanich objected, and the District of North Vancouver likewise contested the proposal, declaring the proposal "the most selfish proposal placed before the convention."

Reeve Macleod assured the convention that Saanich will "very strenuously oppose this matter when you carry it across the Bay."

ASK NOTICE PRECEDE ACTIONS BY LIQUOR BOARD'S OPERATIVES

Union of Municipalities to Seek More Co-operation in Enforcement of Liquor Laws

Frowns on Allocation of Beer Parlor Licenses to Districts Concerned

Liquor law enforcement by Liquor Board secret service operatives, the piling up of inordinate expense accounts of which no details are supplied, and the influx of non-residents, of disorderly character, imposed undue burdens on the police forces of such districts.

Reeve Macleod voiced the general opinion of the convention in opposition, when recalling the statement of Attorney-General Manson that the liquor profits subject to division among the municipalities. Reeve Macleod supported no change, with the reminder that beer parlor districts claimed immunity from bootleggers, while dry areas had these lawbreakers to combat.

The convention refused by an overwhelming vote to ask for any change in the present system of handling beer parlor licenses by the Liquor Board.

WANT WARNING

Seeking greater co-operation between the Liquor Board and municipal police forces in liquor law enforcement, the municipality of Esquimalt brought before the convention a resolution in which the Board was asked, before sending secret operatives into any municipality, to notify the police commission, composed of members requiring attention, and in all ways seek better co-operation before taking steps through the Liquor Board's secret operatives.

Councillor Vance of North Vancouver protested that secrecy in such cases would often be lost, but President Lockley countered: "Things are now so secret that often we cannot see the operative at all."

"GLAD OF CLEAN UP"

"The Liquor Board should keep their dirty tribe of stool pigeons at home, a delegate protested, but W. A. Gordon of Revelstoke disagreed, saying: "The Liquor Act is all right the way it is. Police commissions are often glad to have outsiders come in and clean up where their things they know are going on."

A survey delegate said too many anonymous complaints to the board had been the experience of his municipality, and Reeve Macleod of Esquimalt was confident that a police commission would take offence at being warned of conditions, warning would only be fair before operatives of the board enter any district.

SINGLE POLICE PLAN

Reeve Macleod of Burnaby believed the resolution asking for notice of an impending secret service visit to be ineffectual and wise, but Al-derman Woodward and Cullin urged the only adequate solution would be found in transference to the Province of police administration. This aspect of the discussion was eventually ruled out of order by a vote of the delegates, and will be made the subject of a special resolution.

Comptroller Pilkington of Vancouver, favoring the resolution asking advice from the board, pointed out that, up to the present, the Terminal City has not secured details of the bill for $23,000 piled up against Vancouver last year by secret service operatives.

NEED WATCHING

J. H. Hickman of Nanaimo, who is a police commissioner, declared: "The Nanaimo police force spends one-third of its time watching the Liquor Board's stool pigeons. What is the use of sending stool pigeons to Nanaimo? We do not want them, we have a good police force of honest men. Recently two of these Liquor Board operatives arrived, picked up two girls from a dive, took them to another place, had some beer, pulled the house, went back with the girls, and our city police then caught the operatives in a common resort. It was a most unhappy condition, with comfortable arresting constable, for that is what these stool pigeons rank as being."

The convention then overwhelmingly voted in support of the resolution asking co-operation by the Liquor Board, precedent to action by secret men.

ENGINEER KILLED IN TRAIN SMASH

Port Arthur, Ont., Sept. 23.—Hector Belanger of Port Arthur, an engineer, was killed, and two trainmen slightly injured, in a collision of freight trains on the Canadian National Railway 106 miles west of here last night. It is stated the operator of the station concerned, fearing the impending crash, sent a yard engine in pursuit of the train which was in danger, but it could not catch it in time to prevent the smash.

LEAGUE TO ASK FOR HIGHWAY TO SAYWARD

Extension of Island Highway Will be Urged on Government

The Good Roads League Executive, when meeting the Provincial Government to-morrow morning, will urge the extension of the Island Highway for forty miles northwards, from Campbell River to Sayward. Instructions to press for this construction on Vancouver Island were given the executive at Monday afternoon's session of the league, after J. E. Armistead, secretary of the Sayward Agricultural and Development Society, had addressed the convention on considerations of length.

The representations will urge the importance of opening to Island connections the Sayward area of 40,000 acres of fine agricultural land, and will present data showing that this proposed highway will serve a number of growing communities, such as Metchosin, Bay, Intervening, between the district of Sayward and the Government, but already expended large sums in Sayward district on bridges and roads, but no connecting link makes the aggregate Provincial investment of $200,000 available to the people of the Province.

BARGAIN PERFORMED

Mr. Armistead showed the league that the district of Sayward has years ago, having attracted to the district many families of settlers who took up 1,400 acres of land in anticipation of highway connection with the more settled areas of Vancouver Island.

There are now two schools in Sayward and a population of 150 farm residents in addition to the lumbering employees, but in view of the isolation existing, with only an intermittent steamer service from Vancouver, the district is in danger of losing a number of these families. So important did the convention consider this appeal from Sayward, it instructed the executive of the league to make a special study of the conditions and the highway route to be advanced, in order that special pressure for this work may be exerted upon the Government.

Rastus, on his first voyage, was fed the paces of sea sickness. "Ho, ho," taunted his companion. "You are a landlubber, 'o' sho." "Right, boy," said Rastus, weakly. "An' I's jes' findin' out how much I really lubs it."

W. E. FOSTER IS EXPECTED TO JOIN FEDERAL CABINET

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Two or three appointments of outstanding interest may be made to-morrow at a meeting of the Federal Cabinet.

A successor to Hon. A. B. Cogg as Secretary of State probably will be announced before Premier King goes to Western Canada on Friday. There is a strong probability W. E. Foster, former Premier of New Brunswick, will accept the portfolio. It is understood the Premier has been in conference with Mr. Foster during the week.

There is a vacant senatorship in New Brunswick and a judgeship or nomination again rumored. Mr. Cogg will accept a judgeship in his native province.

MANY NOMINEES FOR CLUB EXECUTIVE

Women's Canadian Club to Elect Officers on October 5

Nominations for the offices and executive positions of the Women's Canadian Club were announced at the meeting yesterday afternoon, following the address by Baroness Orczy, Mrs. A. R. Walsh, convener of the nominating committee, made her report as follows:

President, Miss Agnew; first vice-president, Miss Mara, Mrs. R. R. Taylor; second vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Hyndman; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Fletcher; treasurer, Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw; literary correspondent, Miss Bruce; executive, of which seven members were elected: Mrs. Astell, Miss Bowron, Mrs. P. R. Brown, Mrs. J. Clearbue, Mrs. Angus Campbell, Mrs. P. E. Coghy, Mrs. B. S. Freeman, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mrs. R. W. Perry, Mrs. J. T. McDonald, Mrs. Herbert Pendray, Mrs. W. E. Stenland, Mrs. J. S. Brown and Mrs. Parker Hilden. Election will take place at the annual meeting on Tuesday, October 5.

Announcement was made of the joint luncheon to be held on Friday by the Canadian Club and the Women's Canadian Club in honor of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Plaskett, for which tickets may be obtained at Fletcher's music store.

THREE WESTERN PROVINCES UNITE ON GRAIN RATES

Vancouver, Sept. 23.—"If the Montreal Board of Trade has done nothing else it has for the first time definitely united the three provinces of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia in a common bond of opposition to eastern aggression against the development of the West."

declared G. G. McGeer, K.C., to-day in connection with the various freight rate questions which are to be argued before the Railway Commission on September 22.

Mr. McGeer will leave for Ottawa to-night.

"This is the first time we have had Saskatchewan with us in direct representation and that is a notable victory for the western route," said the British Columbia counsel.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things: Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion; or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisulphate of Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antidote than Bisulphate of Magnesia. It is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisulphate of Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and the bisulphate form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

FORD EMPLOYEES FAIL TO IMPROVE ON HENRY'S SYSTEM

Delay in Output of New Cars Caused by Using Blueprints Instead of Wood Models

Detroit, Sept. 23.—The Detroit Free Press to-day said an effort of employees at the Ford Motor Company to improve upon methods of Henry Ford caused a delay of two weeks in the production of the new model automobiles of the company.

The story says Henry Ford previously insisted that all parts be worked out in wood before being made into metal to insure perfect fitting. This time, according to the story, several Ford employees, without consulting any one, decided to work direct from the blue-prints, and for this reason it was impossible to fit together machines shipped to Ford assembly plants throughout the country.

Officials of the Ford Company, it is said, refuse to comment on an article in the Wall Street Journal, asserting that the two weeks' delay had cost the company $5,000,000. It was denied there had been any wholesale dismissal of employees as a result of the error and also that the error had resulted from the activity of paid mechanics placed in the Ford Company plants by a rival motor car company.

CARDIN ANSWERS PATENAUDE'S WORDS

Quebec Conservative is no New Messiah, Says Minister of Marine

Montreal, Sept. 23.—Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, last night answered the statements made by Hon. E. L. Patenaude at St. Laurent on Sunday. The occasion was an address in the Liberal interests.

Mr. Cardin ridiculed the circumstances of Mr. Patenaude's re-entry into the Federal arena, characterizing him as the "new Messiah" who was to save his country from desolation. He urged that Mr. Patenaude's declaration of his independence from both Mr. Meighen or Mr. King could not be accepted, nor could it be made to agree with his statement that he was a follower of both Carriar and Macdonald, for "both of those great men were Conservatives," said Mr. Cardin.

CONSCRIPTION TALK

Mr. Cardin blamed the Conservative Party for having introduced the matter of the conscription of 1917 into the present campaign and added that Mr. Patenaude's attitude at that time had shown him not to be desirous of impeding conscription.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries, discussing the British preference, said it was not based on sentiment, but on business, and its effect had been an increased rate between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Emigration to the United States was stopping, but should a Conservative administration get into power, there would, he said, be a renewal of it.

NOMINATIONS FOR HOUSE OF COMMONS

JURY RECOGNIZES WOMAN'S HEROISM

Nanaimo Mother Died Trying to Save Children From Fire

Nanaimo, Sept. 23.—That Mrs. John Hunter met death by suffocation or burning while attempting to rescue her four children was the verdict returned yesterday by the coroner's jury which investigated the fire in which the five persons lost their lives at South Wellington on Sunday.

Mr. Russell, who had gone to a nearby store when the fire broke out was a witness at the inquest and expressed the opinion that the fire had been started when a gasoline lamp in the kitchen was knocked over in some way.

RUSSIA SUPPLYING RECORD WHEAT CROP FOR WORLD

Harvest in Soviet Country Biggest Since 1911; Big Export Surplus

Berlin, Sept. 23.—Russian grain exports this year will play a big role in the world market for the first time since the war if Soviet statistics are to be accepted. These statistics estimate the crop as the biggest since the record year of 1911. It will amount to 4,100,000,000 bushels, compared with 2,700,000,000 last year. (A bushel equals thirty-six pounds avoirdupois).

Russian grain exports last year were unimportant, amounting to only 72,000,000 bushels against 1,000,000,000 in 1913, and the Government was later compelled to import considerable amounts to tide the country over until the present harvest.

The grain exports of 1918 amounted to forty-eight per cent of the world's whole grain trade, but in the year's from 1920 to 1924 they averaged only four per cent. The Soviet Government predicts Russia will regain this year her former dominating position.

"The situation is extraordinarily favorable for Russia because her chief competitors will have poor crops," says the official communique. "The Indian crop is 11 per cent and the American crop 23 per cent behind last year's figures."

"The Indian and American crops will just about cover domestic consumption in those countries. We calculate on a shortage of 500,000,000 bushels in the world grain trade and it will be for Russia to fill that breach."

The Russian authorities believe they will be able to deliver at a price making competition difficult.

Vancouver Man Died in Ontario

Smith's Falls, Ont., Sept. 23.—Mystery surrounds the death in a local hospital of a man who registered at a hotel here on Saturday last as A. Daniel of Vancouver. He failed to make his appearance Sunday, and when the door of his room was forced, he was found in bed in a state of coma. He did not regain consciousness and died in hospital. Nothing in his luggage or clothing gave any indication as to his home address.

The Vancouver authorities have been asked to find his next of kin.

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24

Although this will be a likely enough day, yet certain hostile forces enjoin conservatism and especial care in the matter of change, removal or travel. And while new projects are under an auspicious rule, at the same time there is a menace of fraud or deception, which, if guarded against, may be made to thrive under a beneficent force from Jupiter assisted by a friendly Saturn, who may reward application and patience. But beware in signing all writings.

Those whose birthday it is may be able to bring success from certain menacing conditions by discretion in the handling of business, particularly as to precautionary measures against fraud and deception. New undertakings manipulated with conservatism are encouraged, but change removal and travel are advised against. A child born on this day may be talented and clever, but may have a restless and irresponsible disposition, unless given rigorous early training, particularly in the matter of veracity and honesty.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

BARONESS ORCZY IS REMINISCENT OF EARLY CAREER

Before an audience which filled the ballroom of the Empress Hotel to its fullest capacity, Baroness Orczy, authoress of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" and other romantic novels, yesterday afternoon told the members of the Women's Canadian Club something of her early experiences in the literary field.

The Baroness spoke with great charm and a ready sense of humor, and her primary intention in coming to Canada, she avowed, was to gather material for further novels, and the warmth of the welcome extended to her since her arrival in the Dominion had evoked her sincere appreciation.

In early life the ambition of the Baroness was to become an artist, to paint pictures with the brush and not the pen, and after going to London, she studied art for many years. Her love for her romantic and historical characters in fiction, she ascribed to her association with the pictures of Edwin Long, a London artist. After her marriage, in conjunction with her husband, she was kept busy with illustrations for magazines and it was not until 1909 that she discovered she had a talent for writing.

At this time, she and her husband were boarding with a Derbyshire family living in London, consisting of father, a mother and two daughters, each of whom was imbued with the idea of writing short stories. It was their custom to read aloud after dinner their own compositions and to these literary efforts the Baroness and her husband sometimes listened. One day, much to the surprise of all in the home, a story was accepted by a publisher and a check for five pounds was received. To this the Baroness gave serious thought and she decided that if a person who had not traveled, who had not met with people of importance, could write stories, why not she who had traveled extensively and knew people of prominence? On asking her husband for his opinion on the subject, she said the best advice she had ever received was his reply, "Why shouldn't you?"

Her first story was accepted by the editor of Pearson's magazine. On being asked to contribute a serial to The Daily Express, the story of "The Scarlet Pimpernel" flashed on her mind while waiting in an underground station in London.

The Baroness stated that although there have been three and a half million copies of the book sold, it was refused in the beginning by twelve London publishers. The story on being dramatized by the Baroness was produced by Mr. Fred Terry and Miss Julia Neilson on the stage. On the day after the production, a London paper had a good thing to say about the play, stated the authoress and quoted a criticism in The Daily Mail which said the best thing about it was its title, the scarlet pimpernel being a flower that blossomed and withered in a night and that the play would have the same fate. The Baroness expressed her appreciation of the kindness shown her in Victoria and said it was a joy and a pleasure to visit here.

Miss Agnew, who presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. H. P. Hodges, tendered the Baroness Orczy on behalf of the members a hearty vote of thanks. Mrs. Harold Cameron sang two solos, which were greatly appreciated by the assembled guests.

when the Rev. James Sharp united in marriage Bertha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkham, of Highley, Shropshire, England, and Benjamin Lovell, of London, England. The bride was charming in a gown of mauve georgette, trimmed with all-ve lace. Her bouquet was of cream roses and maidenhair fern. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Norrie Plow, who was becomingly attired in a frock of jade green Canton crepe. The groom was supported by Mr. W. B. Sharp of Shawinigan Lake.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lovell left for the Sound cities, where they will spend their honeymoon. For traveling the bride wore an ensemble costume of mauve tulle and green Canton crepe and wore a picture hat of black velvet. To the bride, the groom gave a dressing set of French ivory. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bar brooch and to the best man a pair of gold cufflinks. After their return Mr. and Mrs. Lovell will occupy their new residence at Shawinigan Lake.

Mrs. C. P. Hill was at home on Monday and Tuesday afternoons to a number of her friends in her beautiful home, "Hillhaven." The house was a veritable bower of late Summer flowers, zinnias, gladioli, and hushes being employed on the daintily appointed tea table. There were six tables of players on each day, and a variety of games for tea. Those included Mrs. Hermann Robertson, Mrs. John Irving, Mrs. Wesley Davidson, Mrs. Lorne Campbell, Mrs. W. H. ST. JOHN'S CHURCH SCENE OF SMART WEDDING LAST NIGHT

Miss Kathryn Bradshaw and Mr. Percy Barr of Vancouver Married by the Rector

St. John's Church was the scene last night of an interesting wedding to many Victorians when the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick united in marriage Kathryn Bradshaw, B.A., elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw of 3065 Albany Road, and Percy Munson Barr, B.A. Sc., M.P., only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barr of Vancouver.

For the happy occasion the church had been decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and foliage, the handwork of the Misses Kathleen and Evelyn Johnston and other girl friends of the bride. The guest pews were signified with bows of tulle and clusters of flowers while a double arch of blooms in pastel shades under which the bridal couple stood during the ceremony, gave an additional artistic touch to decorations.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was a fascinating picture in her wedding gown of white georgette fashioned with an apron-effect having a panel and flounce embroidered with silver huckle heads and silk embroidery. The long train, attached to the shoulders was of georgette edged with Maltese lace. The soft net veil was attached to the coiffure with a chaplet of orange blossoms and arranged in fan-like shape at the back of the head. In addition to a shower of Ophelia roses the bride carried a pretty bag of white beads, the gift of Mrs. Blair of Winnipeg.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Alex Bradshaw, who looked very pretty in a dress of pale pink crepe having a flounce and a wash of the same material. A silver bandeau was worn on the head. Her bouquet was a sheaf of pink gladioli.

The groom was supported by Mr. Norman Whitaker and the ushers were Mr. Clifford Collison and Mr. Frank Frost.

The wedding marches were played by the organist of the church, Mr. Jennings Burnett, for the arrival and leaving of the bride party and during the signing of the register. Mr. Tupman sang "Because." Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Albany Road where Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw welcomed the many guests, the latter in a handsome imported French model gown of champagne colored panne velvet trimmed with filmy lace embroidered in all-over, and wearing a smart black lace with a brim of silver and black lace and ostrich plume for ornament. Over this was worn a white fur wrap. The groom's mother was dressed in black satin with beige lace trimming and hat to match.

The bride is a graduate of the University of British Columbia in Arts, and after leaving college, studied law in her father's office and was called to the bar in 1922. She has been closely connected with social and educational organizations in Victoria, having been for two years president of the University Women's Club, is a director of the Kumtuka Club and is president of the choir of the First Baptist Church.

The groom is a graduate in science of the University of British Columbia, where he won the Dean Brock Scholarship, and at Yale University he obtained the degree of M.F. and won the Charles Lathrop Pack. He is now with the Provincial Forest Branch of the Department of Lands. Mr. and Mrs. Barr left on the midnight boat for Vancouver en route to Jasper Park and Alsea Lake where the honeymoon will be spent. They will spend the Winter months in Victoria and in the Spring will leave for Prince George to make their home.

The bride's traveling costume was a cloak of chucker brown fur with Russian mink worn over a mustard colored silk crepe-knit frock. Her hat was in the bobette style of silk beaver with feather ornament. A russet colored silk scarf completed the attire.

Among the many handsome gifts were two silver entree dishes from the Provincial Forest Branch, a painting by Mary Riter Hamilton from the Women's University Club, a silver cake basket from the Kumtuka Club.

At the home, Mrs. Denton and Mrs. Hembroff had charge of the supper arrangements and were assisted by the Misses Margaret Armstrong, Beatrice Rattan, Beth Grimason, Doris McMoran, Dorcen Drummond-Hay, Ruth and Helen Hembroff, Owen Woods and Gertrude Hill, the latter all friends of the bridesmaid.

Mrs. A. E. Taylor was responsible for the artistic floral arrangements in the home. Among the out-of-town guests were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Barr of Vancouver, his sister, Mrs. Blackburn of Cranbrook, Miss Marjorie Bonfield of Vancouver and Miss Lillian Hunter of Nelson.

COL. G. O. FALLIS SAYS PROHIBITION IS GREAT SUCCESS

Large Audience of W.C.T.U. Delegates Addressed Last Evening at Metropolitan

Last evening at the Metropolitan Church, Colonel, the Rev. G. O. Fallis addressed the delegates in convention for the forty-second annual meeting of the Provincial W.C.T.U. Colonel Fallis recently returned from a six months' tour of the United States. He stated that prohibition is a success in the States. He had traveled through thirty-three states, 24,000 miles, and, although he had gone there expecting to see the Eighteenth Amendment violated on every hand, he had come away quite convinced that prohibition was in the United States to stay.

"I lived in 175 hotels while I was away, and in only three did I feel certain that liquor was being served," he stated. The problem in the States at the present time is the problem of the underworld, the drugs of society, and the rich. But in between these two there is a big middle group which is solid for prohibition," he maintained. A study of economics proved it. Whereas before prohibition there were but 10,000,000 saving accounts in the States, there were to-day 35,000,000.

The question of juvenile crime was briefly touched upon, and sweeping aside as unconvincing the criticisms which placed this at the door of the big foreign population of the United States, a false ideal in education, or the eradication of the principle of stern treatment of the criminal, Colonel Fallis placed the whole blame on the breaking down of the family life. He had himself watched the names in the crime records while he was in the States, and by far the greater majority of the names of the criminals were pure Anglo-Saxon.

"As long as we take the attitude that the highest man in the community is the richest man in the community, we are deliberately setting up the wrong ideal for the youth of the country."

UNITY URGED BY W.C.T.U. PRESIDENT

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie Exhorts Members to Greater Effort in Work of Organization

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie, president of the W.C.T.U., addressed the delegates in convention yesterday afternoon. She stated there never was a greater need of the organization than today and urged the members to a greater united and individual effort. The W.C.T.U. had the unique distinction of being a university of reform, and the duty of the members was to teach people why they were wiser in leaving intoxicating liquors alone, preventive work being of more value than reform or curative work. She gave a comprehensive review of departmental activities, among the foremost being Canadianization work—provincial balloting and scientific temperance instruction.

A wide-open gate of opportunity lay among the young people, as here a genuine public sentiment could be built up. An appeal was made for a group of superintendents for the various departments of the W.C.T.U. In conclusion, thanks were expressed to the many officers and others who had given such splendid co-operation during the year.

One of the most interesting of the other reports read was that concerning the Provincial W.C.T.U. Refuge Home on Ida Street, Victoria, the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Hall, giving this report.

The "home" has reached its thirty-sixth year. Eighteen girls and six women had been admitted, and the original principle of giving them instruction of a practical kind in housekeeping, needlework and also Bible instruction, was still continued. The home tried in every way to extend its influence.

The question of finances had to be considered. The home was under heavy current expenses, and in addition during the past year several alterations and repairs had to be effected.

Mrs. Barnard, superintendent of the peace and arbitration committee, gave an excellent paper and the meeting asked that this report might be incorporated in the year book of the society. Mrs. Barnard urged that women must bend their energies to the prevention of another war. They must not flatter themselves that this nation or that nation was "the chosen of the Lord," nor take the attitude, "Thank the Lord that we are not as others." It was still hoped that the United States would enter the League of Nations, as the League of Nations could achieve nothing unless it had the support of the world's public opinion behind it.

"The cause of practically every war since the French Revolution has been economic," said the speaker, who maintained that one of the most direct methods of arriving at the peace and arbitration sentiment was through the young people. "Teach the young people that the golden rule works both ways."

Mrs. Irvine, reporting for the anti-narcotics committee, complained of lack of interest in the various branches, although she had had interesting letters from New Westminster, Kitilano, Nanaimo and one or two other points. The Rotarians, she stated, had been very interested in helping an addict in Nanaimo to reform.

The excellent work of the W.C.T.U. home was outlined by Mrs. Gee in her financial report, which mentioned that a grant of $1,300 had been given by the city, and an additional $2,500 from the Province.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Fred Spencer of Florence Street, has as her guest for a few days, Mrs. Wingfield of Parkville.

R. H. Blades, Miss Blades and Miss Malcolm of Red Deer have arrived in Victoria for a short stay. They are at the Dominion Hotel.

Cowichan people in Victoria to-day include Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Williams and Mr. and Mrs. G. Andrews of Duncan and Mr. R. Forrest of Hillbank. They are all at the Strathcona Hotel.

Mrs. Johnson, 24 Government Street, gave a farewell party last Thursday for her granddaughter, Miss Audrey Ennever, who is leaving shortly to spend the winter months out of town.

A miscellaneous shower was held Monday evening at the home of Miss Nona Pious, 2533 Graham Street, in honor of Miss Bertha Kirkham, whose marriage took place yesterday at noon. The reception room was beautifully decorated in mauve and white. The many handsome and useful gifts were concealed in a pretty decorated box. Among those present were Mrs. W. R. Sharp, Mrs. J. Noble, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. J. Redmond, Misses Bee, Ninome and Ruby Williamson, Mrs. J. Wood, Mrs. Bunce, Mrs. Welch, Mrs. J. P. Flowers, Mrs. Laird, Miss Swanson, Miss Grace Stevens and Mrs. Hurley.

On Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weinberg on Manchester Road, the Rev. Theo. A. Jansen united in marriage Wilhelmus Raemmen and Mr. Gustav Saragap. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Weinberg and was dressed in heliotrope colored crepe de Chine, and carried a shower bouquet of Ohelia roses and Maidenhair fern. Miss Helen Weinberg acted as bridesmaid and was dressed in mauve crepe de Chine. Mr. Jack Weinberg supported the groom. Miss Annie Weinberg played the wedding marches. Mr. and Mrs. Saragap left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, and on their return will reside in Victoria.

BANDITS TOOK $1,400
Greenup, Ill., Sept. 22.—Four bandits held up and robbed the State Bank of Jewett, near here, yesterday afternoon. After binding Cashier Virgil Armer, the bandits took $1,400 from the bank's vault and fled west on the National Old Trail Road.

While pursuing those found the car used by the bandits abandoned five miles west of Jewett.

SHANGHAI AFFAIR
Peking Sept. 22.—China still opposes a judicial inquiry into the Shanghai affair of May 30 last, in which a number of Chinese were shot by the international police of that city during a demonstration in favor of striking employees of Japanese cotton mills. A note sent to the British legation by the Chinese Foreign Office contends a fresh investigation would only complicate the issue.

When you once use a Hoover you'll wonder how you managed without it. Phone for a home demonstration.

SS. MENELAUS WILL PLY TRANS-PACIFIC ROUTE THIS WINTER

New Ship Being Sent Out From New York to Replace
Ss. Proteus in North Pacific Service of the Blue
Funnel Line.

Transferred from the New York-Far East run of the Blue Funnel line the Ss. Menelaus will arrive on this coast via the Panama Canal shortly being scheduled to touch at Seattle inbound on October 5. She replaces, it is thought here, the Ss. Proteus now returning from the Orient to United Kingdom points.

The Menelaus will ply in the North Pacific-Orient run, sharing the Vancouver-Yokohama route with the Tyndareus, Achilles and Philoctetes. She is a new type craft of the line and was used for some time in the Atlantic Far East service of the Blue Funnel Line. The Proteus, thus replaced, is one of the older type vessels of the line though well known on this coast in the Orient run.

The Ss. Menelaus will arrive at Seattle on October 5, leaving there on October 11 for Vancouver and clearing outbound for the Orient from Victoria on October 22.

The growth of the valuable silk cargoes carried by the Canadian National line by the Blue Funnel Line has led to the addition to the Pacific service of the Menelaus. It is thought here. The new schedule of the line for Fall and Winter months

NANKOH MARU TO TAKE B.C. LUMBER
FOR SOUTH AFRICA

Seattle, Sept. 23.—The Japanese steamer Nankoh Maru has been chartered by J. J. Moore & Co. to load 4,000,000 feet of lumber here and at Vancouver, B.C., for South Africa. The vessel is on its way here from Kobe.

Salmon of the Roland Line is due in Seattle Saturday or Sunday. The German motorship Odra is expected here October 16 and is to be followed by the German steamer Alda October 22. The Roland and the Alda are the first of four ships which are to be added to the service maintained between the Pacific Coast and Europe jointly by the United American Lines, Hamburg American Line, Roland Line and the Komet Line.

The barquentine John Ena arrived Monday in tow of the freighter John C. Kirkpatrick with a full cargo of railroad ties. The John Ena has been chartered from James Bots of San Francisco by Andrew F. Mahoney for shipment of railroad ties and piling to the Erie Railroad. The steamer Forest King is to tow the John Ena to New Seattle. The Forest King is expected to arrive here on Puget Sound.

AORANGI TO SAIL

Outbound for Australia and New Zealand the R.M.S. Aorangi of the Canadian-Australian Line will get away this evening after sailing here for late mail. The new motorship was posted to sail from Vancouver at noon to-day, and is expected here between 5 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

LONDON MARU TO HAVE PROPELLERS CHANGED IN ORIENT

While in the Orient on this run, the London Maru of the O.S.K. Line may be docked for a change in the pitch of her propellers. It is said here. The London Maru is single screw turbine vessel engaged in the trans-Pacific service of the line.

The new schedule of the O.S.K. line between B.C. ports and Yokohama shows the following liners in operation: Paria Maru, Africa Maru, Arizona Maru, Arabian Maru, London Maru and Alabama Maru, giving a service twice or three times a month from the Tacoma terminal via Seattle and Victoria for the Orient where calls are made at Yokohama, Kobe, Moji, Dairen and other ports.

The Africa Maru is the next vessel of the line to make port here, due in on Monday with a bumper silk cargo and some passengers. Two first and eighty steerage will depart here.

Notice to Mariners

BRITISH COLUMBIA
(139) Vancouver Island, West Coast—Cape Beale—Character of Light to be Changed.

On or about October 1, 1925, the revolving white light will be discontinued and a temporary fixed white light will be exhibited while a new lighting apparatus is being installed.

The new apparatus to be installed will be a flashing white light showing one bright flash every seven seconds. For half the time between flashes the light will be totally eclipsed; for the other half a fixed white light of 450 candle power will be visible through which the flashes of 20,000 will show. When the new light is placed in operation, the temporary light will be discontinued.

TIDE TABLE

September, 1925
[Table with 12 columns: Date, Time, Height, etc.]

The time used is Pacific standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 6 to 24 hours from midnight.

The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

TRANS-PACIFIC MAILS

China and Japan
President McKinley—Mails close Sept. 24, 4 p.m.; due at Yokohama Sept. 25.

LUMBER VESSELS BUSY AT DOCKS

Loaded for Atlantic ports the Ss. Skagnum sailed at noon to-day after taking on 800,000 feet of lumber here within the last week. She is sailing for Boston and way ports via the Panama Canal, with a heavy lumber cargo loaded at British Columbia mills.

The Ss. Orient City made port early this morning and now lies at Pier 1. Rithet's wharves, for 300,000 feet of lumber which she expects to load to-day. The Orient City is posted to sail to-night for Tacoma for more cargo, before clearing for Antipodean ports.

Lumber is also the occasion for the visit here of the barquentine Forest Dream, expected to make port to-morrow for the first of a lumber shipment of 2,000,000 feet for the Mauritius. The Forest Dream was purchased by Mainland interests after difficulty in chartering a vessel bound for Port Luis, the main destination of the lumber shipment.

MARINE NOTES

Southbound on her regular voyage the Canadian National steamship Prince John made port here at 1 a.m. to-day with a shipment of whole oil from the Queen Charlotte Island stations of the Consolidated Whaling Company. The Ss. Gray of the Consolidated Whaling Company sailed last night for Rose and Naden Harbors where she will discharge a shipment of coal and take on about 800 tons of whale oil. Consignment at the whaling stations led to the voyage of the Gray, her first this year.

Inbound from the Orient on her regular run the N.Y.K. Kaga Maru is expected at William Head at 6 p.m. to-morrow. She will pass on to mainland ports after discharging 150 tons and some passengers here. Outbound she will call here again on October 9, for sea.

Inbound in the service of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, the Canadian Rover is expected to make port to-morrow morning from San Francisco in the regular sailings of the line.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY'S TRAIN SERVICE

The Canadian Pacific "Trans-Canada Limited" will be temporarily withdrawn from the service, effective Monday, September 14, last train leaving Vancouver at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, September 13.

Effective Thursday, September 24, the "Mountaineer" (through Vancouver-Chicago train) will be temporarily withdrawn, the last train leaving Vancouver at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, September 23, after which date a through Vancouver-Chicago sleeper will be carried on the "Imperial," leaving Vancouver at 9 p.m. daily, as at present.

The "Toronto Express" will continue to leave at 8:30 a.m. daily, as at present.

End Catarrh Germs In Three Minutes

Chronic catarrh, no matter how bad, and cases of bronchial asthma now yield instantly to the amazing discovery of a French scientist. This drugless method called Laves eliminates the germs in three minutes, yet is positively harmless to the most delicate tissues. Your head and lungs are cleared like magic. Sufferers are relieved in a single night.

To prove it and to introduce Laves to ten thousand sufferers in one month, I offer to send a treatment free and postpaid, to any one who will write for it. No obligation. No cost. If it banishes your Catarrh you can repay the favor by telling your friends—if not, the loss is mine. No matter what you have tried, just send me your name and address for this generous free treatment and prove that you can be rid of catarrh.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The first public appearance for the concert season of the Gish Temple Shrine Band will be on Sunday evening next when the organization will present a program at the Victoria City Temple under James M. Miller's direction.

An interesting example of Victoria's mild climate is that Fred Landsberg is still picking magoon strawberries, although the season is so far advanced. Many of the berries are over two ounces in weight and measure two inches in diameter.

The Union of B.C. Municipalities, yesterday afternoon at the City Hall, refused to express any opinion upon imposition of an export duty upon sawlogs, the resolutions committee being adverse to a resolution on the matter submitted by the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island.

The convention of Municipalities yesterday discussed the gasoline tax. North Vancouver called for distribution of the tax among municipalities, as the bulk of the revenue is collected there. The original proposal was to be used for re-drafting, and will again come up for consideration this afternoon.

The quarterly meeting of the Provincial Chapter, I.O.D.E., will be held all day to-morrow at the Empress Hotel. The delegates to the meeting will be the guests of the Municipal Chapter at luncheon at the Empress Hotel at mid-day. All members of the order are urged to attend the sessions.

The Union of Municipalities yesterday refused Victoria City support in its campaign for inclusion in the Municipal Act class, permitting the city to pay discounts, up to ten per cent, to property owners paying consolidated tax arrears in full, and also refused to permit the council, by a three-fourths vote, to give fixed assessments on property for not more than fifteen years, without first taking a vote of the people. The city's suggestion that efforts be made to induce the Federal Government to waive stamp tax on municipal cheques met with support.

Capt. C. F. L. Money, secretary of the local branch of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, was the choice as an additional delegate to the Dominion convention, which will be held in Regina from September 23 to October 3, at a special meeting of the association held last night in the clubrooms. He will be accompanied by Joshua Hinchcliffe, who was elected at an earlier meeting. The delegates were instructed to recommend to the Dominion Command, that the 1925 convention be held in this city.

OBITUARY

The funeral of the late Thomas Gray took place yesterday afternoon at 3.30 from the B.C. Funeral Chapel, where service was conducted by the Rev. A. K. McKinn. Many friends attended and the casket and hearse were covered with floral offerings. The hymn sung was "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say." The following gentlemen acted as pallbearers: Messrs. A. E. MacEachan, R. McCoubrey and E. P. Nathan representing the Independent Order of Foresters, E. B. Kinney, W. H. Ozard and E. J. C. Smith representing the Congregational Church. The body was laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park.

IMPROVEMENT TAX PROPOSALS GIVEN SIX MONTHS' HOIST

Union Refuses to Consider Compulsory Taxation of Improvements

The Union of Municipalities Convention last night gave short shrift to proposals for compulsory taxation of improvements, which was laid before the delegates without recommendation by the resolutions committee. Without debate the convention shelved the proposal by adoption of a motion ordering discussion six months hence.

The convention endorsed the Victoria proposal that when municipal councils set aside public parks and playing grounds from tax sale, later councils will not be able, as at present, to nullify such actions save by a vote of the ratepayers on a special by-law.

The proposal of Victoria, to prevent candidates standing for election for two council officers at one time, as is possible under present legislation, was endorsed by the convention without debate.

MUNICIPAL UNION FAVORS TWO-YEAR TERM FOR MAYOR

Delegates Will be Guests of City To-day at Banquet and Tour of City

Mayors and Reeves should be elected for two-year terms, to secure continuity of policy, the convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities this morning decided, the vote being 33 to 10, with many delegates not voting.

Alderman Marchant led the battle for application to the Legislature for the change, while Alderman Woodward urged the advantages of the one-year term, and the opportunity given the voters "to elect a good man or turn a bad mayor out."

The delegates to the convention will be the guests of the city of Victoria this afternoon on a tour of Victoria and the district, with a journey to the famous Buchart Gardens and other points of interest.

This evening, at the Crystal Garden, the convention will be tendered a banquet by the city, prominent among the speakers being Premier Oliver.

PROGRESS OF CHURCH IS EXEMPLIFIED BY EXHIBIT

Magnificent Collection of Curios and Ecclesiastical Art Formally Opened at Memorial Hall

There is an old proverb to the effect that "big oaks from little acorns grow" and the first impression to be gained from a visit to the World Service Exhibition which opened at the Anglican Memorial Hall this afternoon is of the magnitude of the "oak" which has developed from the inspiration to present this novel exposition. The idea underlying the whole exhibition is to portray the progress and development of Christianity down through the ages and through all parts of the globe, and the ingenuity and care which has been exercised on the preparation of the exhibition reflects immeasurable credit to the committee responsible, including Dean Qualton, president; A. R. Morris, director; J. H. Hillson and W. L. Morrell, treasurers; Mrs. Duncan Ross, convener of the bazaar which is an integral part of the exhibition, and Mrs. Laycock, general convener of the Court of Service in the ministry of the gospel throughout the world.

MRS. GILLESPIE IS AGAIN PRESIDENT

Provincial W.C.T.U. Elects Officers and Hears Encouraging Reports

Mrs. J. A. Gillespie was unanimously re-elected president of the Provincial W.C.T.U. at this morning's session of the annual convention, held at the Metropolitan Church.

Mrs. M. M. Allen of Naramata was elected first vice-president; Mrs. John Hall of Victoria, second vice-president; Mrs. G. M. Lanning, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. H. Wright, recording secretary; and Mrs. C. Yapp, treasurer, who in accepting office for another year, complimented all the branches on their promptness in forwarding her money during the last year.

Mrs. Cunningham of New Westminster, was chosen honorary president, and in thanking the delegates for the honor stated she had never missed a convention in the forty-two years of the existence of the W.C.T.U. Mrs. David Spencer was chosen honorary vice-president.

NEW BILL WILL PREVENT BUSES FROM SPEEDING

Legislation Provides For Definite Schedules For All B.C. Bus Lines

Height, Width and Weight of Vehicles Also to be Defined

Motor buses will be forced to cut down their speed under legislation regarding buses prepared by the Public Works Department in co-operation with the Attorney-General's Department, it was learned to-day. This legislation, according to an announcement made by Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, at the Good Roads League convention here this week, will be brought before the Fall session of the Legislature.

The bus bill as drafted now governs the maximum height, width, length and weight of all buses operating in the Province. It would compel all bus companies to file an operating schedule with the Government and adhere to them strictly. This schedule would have to provide for a journey between two points within a reasonable time and thus would prevent speeding.

The purpose of the legislation is twofold. It seeks to save roads from damage by heavy vehicles traveling at a high speed and also to guard smaller traffic from danger. At present many motorists are in terror of the big buses, which operate at many points on account of their width and speed. The island highway is probably the chief road affected by the new legislation.

PIONEER MUSICIAN DIES AT SANDWICK

Miss Rebecca J. Groves Gave Lessons in Victoria Thirty Years Ago

The death occurred at the rectory at Sandwick Monday of Miss Rebecca Jane Groves, aged eighty years, daughter of the late John and Mrs. Groves of York, England, and aunt of Mrs. J. W. Flinton, wife of the Rev. J. Flinton, rector of Sandwick. Miss Groves, who came to join her niece in Canada thirty-two years ago, was a talented musician and until late years had been in great demand as a pianist for important musical events. A member of a family well known in musical circles in the Old Country she was an acquisition to musical circles when she came to Victoria and her services were eagerly sought, in addition to acting as accompanist for many of the well-known singers who have visited Victoria in the last thirty years she gave the first lessons to many pianists of British Columbia, who have since won honors in the musical world. She took her art seriously and even to a year or so before her death devoted a considerable portion of every day to practice. As a tutor she was strict but efficient, and her many pupils, who have good cause

CHILD REMAINS IN FATHER'S CUSTODY

The nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Davies will remain in the custody of the father at Prince Rupert, Mr. Justice Gregory ruled this morning on the application of the mother, who keeps a boarding house on Blenheim Street, for partial custody of the child. Arguments which opened yesterday in Supreme Court chambers were continued to-day. The boy has been in the custody of the father for the last two years.

Hamilton Tigers Again Reported as Sold to New York

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—According to a special dispatch from Toronto to The Evening Citizen to-day, the Hamilton Tigers, leaders last year in the National Hockey League championship race, have been purchased by Tex Rickard's New York hockey club. Percy Thompson, manager of the Tigers, was in Toronto this morning accompanied by Tommy Gorman, manager of the New York club. The deal will be consummated at a meeting of the N.H.L. in New York, Saturday. The dispatch states that "despite denials from Hamilton, New York and Montreal, with reports that the Madison Square Garden crowd have purchased the Edmonton Eskimos, it can be taken for granted that Billy Burch, "Shorty" Green and their teammates will be found with New York."

for appreciation of her methods of instruction, will grieve to hear of her death.

The funeral took place at Sandwick to-day and the provision of floral tributes from many parts of Vancouver Island in which she had lived as a member of the family of the Rev. J. W. Flinton during his many years' ministrations on the island, testified to the love and esteem of a wide circle of friends.

LEACH COMING TO OPEN REALTY OPERATIONS HERE

Californian Closes Out Down South and Moves Headquarters to Victoria

Harry R. Leach, the big Californian realty operator who provided one of the features of the recent civic auction sale of lands here, to-day notified Herbert Carmichael that he had leased his home in Santa Monica and was moving his family north to Victoria. He gave Mr. Carmichael instructions to get him a house here and have it ready for him early next month.

Mr. Leach said that he would open realty operations here on a big scale. He will maintain his connections in California cities, as he plans to sell Victoria to real estate investors there. "California has reached the peak of its development," he informed Mr. Carmichael. "To make $20,000 in California, one has to invest $20,000. But to make $20,000 in Victoria one has only to have about $2,000. That is why I am moving north."

"I saw the Los Angeles boom coming five years ago, and I got in on the ground floor. It is now even more apparent to me that Victoria real estate is definitely on an upward trend."

At the same time to-day Mr. Carmichael was notified by Mr. and Mrs. Gibson, wealthy people of Portland, Ore., that they were moving to Victoria to take up permanent residence here. They have been in Victoria for long visits on previous occasions. Mr. Gibson also said that he planned to pick up a quantity of Victoria business property, foreseeing an upward price move of importance.

I am bringing up a number of California real estate buyers with me and they want to make investments in down-town property," Mr. Gibson also said.

Confirming the improvement in the realty market here, officials at the city hall to-day reported the sales of a number of pieces of property on the reverted lands list. These sales were all made at the last prices, which were considerably above the prices obtained at the Austen auction sale.

CHINESE GIRLS OPEN FIGHT TO STAY IN CANADA

Two Claiming Canada as Birthplace Resist Deportation Order

One Victoria and one Vancouver girl, both of whom claim Canada as their birthplace, opened a fight through counsel against deportation in Supreme Court Chambers before Mr. Justice Gregory this morning. In both cases an adjournment until Friday was ordered for examination of affidavits of Immigration Officer Reid.

Stuart Henderson and T. M. Miller appeared for the girls. Lee Chow claims Victoria as her birthplace. It is asserted that after visiting China she returned to Victoria. She was admitted, it is alleged, but after certificates granting her entry in Canada were prepared they were destroyed and the girl was again called before the immigration officer and ordered deported.

In the case of the Vancouver girl, Young Suey Hing, her counsel claims Toronto as her birthplace and claims she is the daughter of a wealthy Vancouver Chinese merchant. They assert she visited China and returned to Canada but immigration officials dispute the identity of the girl, claiming the one for whom admission is sought is not Young Suey Hing.

"THE IRON HORSE" TRUE TO HISTORY OF EARLY WEST

Numerous histories of the building of the new west, telling of the first continental railroad, record colorful incidents of that achievement which have been faithfully re-enacted for the screen in the William Fox special, "The Iron Horse." As an instance, there is a detailed record of the incident in which the "iron horse" was first run by Indians to avenge the death of a trader. The incident is shown in the picture as clearly as it occurred.

"The graders and track layers often had to fight their way and there is a tradition current of an attempt to stop an express train," wrote Hayes. "It is understood that a larriat was stretched across the track, breast high and held by some thirty braves on each side. But," says the narrator, "when the engineer saw it, he didn't know what on air he was the matter; but in a minute more he bust out laughing and he sketched hold of that throttle and he opened her out; an' he struck that larriat again about forty miles an hour, an' he jest potted them braves on everlastin' permiscuous, you bet!" John Ford, the director, follows actual history in the picture which has been heartily approved by both press and public.

THREE CANADIANS IN "CORNERED," FILM NOW AT COLUMBIA

picture. In "Cornered," which is at the Columbia Theatre to-day, there are three Canadians in the cast. They are Marie Prevost, Wilfred Lucas and Rockcliffe Fellowes. Marie who heads the cast, portrays a dual characterization in the roles of Mary Brennan and Margaret Waring. Wilfred Lucas is Inspector Updike, and Rockcliffe Fellowes takes the part of Jerry, "The Gent," an underworld crook.

Other members in this cast of exceptional players are Raymond Hatton, John Roche, Cissy Fitzgerald and Vera Lewis. The director is William Desmond.

GRIPPING STORY OF MYSTERY IS AT COLISEUM THEATRE

Yvonne Bellamy makes a name for herself as an emotional actress at the Coliseum this week in "The Thirteenth Chair." She plays the role of a spiritualistic medium in a gripping story of mystery, love and murder. With the able assistance of Eileen Allwood, Ruth Hamilton, Frank Allwood, George Olsen and Will Marshall the play is presented in a manner which holds the attention of the audience throughout.

Owen Davis, the popular play-wright, who recently received high honors by winning the great Pulitzer Prize for the best stage play of the year, crashed through another tremendous success when "Her Marriage Vow," another of his powerful stage plays is filmed by Warner Brothers at the Coliseum Theatre.

The producers assembled a stellar cast of actors for this picture. Monte Blue and Beverly Bayne played the star parts. Their concerted acting electrified with brilliancy.

Millard Webb adapted this picture with a number of original twists that improve the picture. At no time during the showing is there any dry parts; the picture has very few titles and there is action from the first reel to the final fade-out. Mr. Webb also directed this photoplay and, although he is one of the youngest directors of the present day, he showed much skill. He splendidly handles the dramatic parts with great emotional skill, and great things are expected of him soon.

FISHERMAN BALKS AT FILM INVASION OF COAST SHACK

While on location at Monterey, California, filming "My Son" for First National Pictures, Edwin Sarewe, the director-producer, met an obstacle in the form of a fisherman. The fisherman, Henri Broglio, was Portuguese and so is Mr. Carewe's story.

While the director was wandering along the coast he saw a fisherman's shack and decided that it would be a splendid atmosphere for the story, playing at the Playhouse Theatre. Carewe knocked at the door of the little house and Broglio answered. After an hour's parlay, Carewe failed to make the fisherman understand that he wanted to rent his house and garden to make scenes for the motion picture.

Jack Pickford, Ian Keith, Charley Murray and Louis Jerome, business manager, all tried their eloquence on the Portuguese, but could not make him understand. Sign language, French, Italian, and even German failed to work. Finally, Carewe decided to start all over again. He put his hands on his hips and said:

"Now listen, my name is Eddie." The Portuguese put his hands on his hips, as if tired of the long conversation.

"No," he said, "your name isn't 'Eddie,' that's my name."

"COAST OF FOLLY" OFFERS GLORIA SWANSON AS STAR

How often you read it in the newspapers.

A mother deserts her child or gives it into the care of another woman. And years later, leaving her baby bursts into a consuming flame, and the return of the child is demanded. Seldom, if ever, does the foster-mother yield the child she has learned to love as her own.

Bitter court battles are fought. The hate between the real mother and the foster-mother is exacted, but somewhat similar, is woven into "The Coast of Folly," Gloria Swanson's new starring picture, directed by Allan Dwan.

Nadine Gathway, young and beautiful society woman, deserts her borseman husband, leaving her baby in the care of "Nanny," the nurse. The baby, Joyce, grows up knowing only the protecting love of "Nanny," and the latter regards Joyce in the light of her own daughter.

From out of the shadows of the past comes the real mother, unable to resist the call of her own flesh and blood when Joyce becomes ensnared in a scandal.

The duel of hate between Nadine and "Nanny" is of brief duration. The hate is all on "Nanny's" side, but it has a tigress intensity. It is snuffed out, however, by the splendid, self-sacrificing way in which Nadine comes to her daughter's rescue. This motif is only incidental to the highly dramatic plot of the story.

Miss Swanson portrays both Nadine and Joyce Gathway.

"The Coast of Folly," now at the Dominion Theatre, was adapted by Dorrest Gray from the immensely popular novel by Coningsby Dawson, Anthony Jovitt, Dorothy Cumming, Alec Francis, Lawrence Gray, Arthur Hausman and others, and is a strong, supporting cast.

DR. ARBUTUS BUDD, BEAUTY DOCTOR, HAS ARRIVED IN TOWN

Man Who Can Make the Ugly Beautiful is Here; Playing in Show

Dr. Arbutus Budd, famous beauty doctor, is in town and anyone who wants to learn the secret of form, beauty and grace should see him. If there are any stout people who wish to become thin, skinny folks who want to put on about twenty or thirty pounds, or homely ones who would like to have mounds, warts or blemishes of other kinds removed, see Doctor Budd. As a beauty doctor he is the last word from Paris.

Doctor Budd is the leading character in the musical comedy, "The Beauty Shop," which is to be presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre on October 1, 2 and 3. Dr. Budd on the occasion of the three shows and matinee will be none other than the buoyant Art Kerr, a director of the Gyo Club. Art has been picked for the part to reveal to Victorians the art of a beauty doctor.

Not only will Dr. Budd show the stagegoers how his bottles of cream and powder bring about the desired results on patients, but he will show the ease with which creditors can be stood off. Most of Dr. Budd's business is done on the credit plan and as a result there is never any money to pay the bills on the first of the month. An uncle of Dr. Budd's ward dies in Corsica and the party sails to take possession of the estate. On arrival, however, it is found that an undertaker, through lack of business, has revived a vendetta between two families and has summoned Budd for that purpose. Budd then falls in love with Natalia, the ugly daughter of an inn-keeper, and when he tries to back out of the contract, is threatened with death by the father. Then in springs the big Corsican duelist, Carambo Maldonado who has been Natalia's sweetheart for years. If Budd marries Natalia, he is pronounced dead by Maldonado, so as Budd

It looks like a dead sure thing for me.

Of course everything winds up all right and Budd escapes both deaths and received a cheque for one million francs for converting Natalia into a beauty girl.

The show is replete with snappy songs, lively dances and clean witicism.

RUBBER DEVELOPMENT

Manila, Sept. 22.—The Senate yesterday passed a bill appropriating approximately $20,000 annually for the free distribution of rubber seed to farmers. The sponsors of the bill hope to develop the rubber industry on a large scale in a few years through the free distribution of seed. The bill now goes to the House.

Crossroads of U.S. In Indianapolis

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—A downtown street intersection here—Washington and Meridian Streets—is to be designated "the cross-roads of the nation."

Two important national highways, the National Old Trail Road, running from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the Dixie Highway, beginning at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., and terminating in Miami, Florida, intersect at this Indianapolis corner.

More than seventy-five per cent. of the cross-country north, south, east and westbound tourists use these two highways, according to E. W. Steinhart, president of the Hoosier State Automobile Association, Mr. Indianapolis.

Mascot Matched To Fight Edwards At
Arena Next WeekColored Boy Will go Ten
Rounds With Bantamweight
Foley Conquered

Billy Mascot and Danny Edwards have been matched for a ten-round bout at the Arena on Friday, October 2, according to an announcement made by Billy Davies, match-maker for the Victoria Boxing Club.

Both fighters have previously appeared before Victoria audiences. Mascot was beaten on a technical knockout in the seventh round last Friday night by Vic Foley, bantamweight champion of Canada. Mascot put up a good fight until he was clipped on the chin by a right hook and he might have weathered the storm had his manager not been so ambitious to bring a towel. It is hoped that the said manager will do a little training himself before the next bout and not be so fast with his towel-flinging act.

EDWARDS HAS CLASS

Danny Edwards, formerly holder of the Pacific Coast bantamweight title, is a clever little negro. He fought here several months ago, being pitted against Al Davies. Although giving weight, Edwards had no trouble beating Davies, and finally put him down for the count in the seventh round.

Mascot and Edwards should put on a lively bout and it should prove a good attraction.

It is possible that Foley will be here for another bout a little later. He is fighting on Friday night against Vic King, the Australian champion, in Vancouver. Foley won a previous fight with King on a foul. The Canadian champion was twice fouled. After the first low blow he decided to be a good sport and carry on, but when King cut him low a second time he was in such a bad way that he could not continue.

Walker Anxious To Tackle Champs In
Heavier DivisionsWilling to Fight Shade in Return Match But Prefers Greb
and Berlenbach

New York, Sept. 23.—Although willing to fight Mickey Walker to risk his welterweight title against Dave Shade again, Jack Kearns, his manager, said he would bend his efforts toward signing the welterweight champion against two titleholders of heavier divisions. He aims at a return fight for the middleweight title between Walker and Harry Greb of Pittsburgh, who defeated Mickey in July, and for a light-heavyweight championship contest with Paul Berlenbach of Astoria.

Negotiations for a return match between Walker and Shade were opened yesterday by Tex Rickard, promoter.

The indecisiveness of Walker's victory over Shade in a fifteen-round title clash at the Yankee Stadium on Monday, Rickard said prompted him to start dickering for a return match to be held during the winter season in the new Madison Square Garden.

New York, Sept. 23.—The decision of the judges Monday night's welterweight championship fight of fifteen rounds between Mickey Walker and Dave Shade has the official approval of the New York state boxing commission, even though members of the board may have disagreed with the verdict. William Muldown, one of the commissioners, said last night.

Admitting that he believed "Shade was having a little the better of it," Muldown declared that "no fairer or more capable judges ever sat a ring-side to decide the merits of a bout."

"We named these men to decide the fight, and it doesn't make a particle of difference what the public thinks," he said. "The public is not going to decide bouts for this commission. I say I think Shade was getting a bit the better of it, but it was a good decision and we are going to stand behind it."

New York, Sept. 23.—The decision giving Mickey Walker, welterweight champion, victory over Dave Shade, his California challenger, in their whirlwind bout on Monday night at the Yankee Stadium, was supported yesterday by a large majority of expert opinion, although the admitted closeness of the battle produced keen discussion.

Ten out of twelve newspaper opinions agreed with the official verdict. As typical of opposing views, The Times said:

"Any other decision than one to Walker would have been unfair to the champion," while The Sun characterized the decision as "weird," and "a baby brother to the Dundee-Bernstein decision, which provoked considerable controversy some time ago."

Walker's closing rally, in the fifteenth round, turned the scales in the champion's favor. In the judgment of the main body of critics, although Jimmy De Forest, noted trainer and promoter, discounted Walker's finish and expressed the opinion that Shade was clearly entitled to the verdict.

Pittsburg's Real Sensation

HAZEN CUYLER

Hazen Cuyler can well be called a real sensation. In 1924, his first season as a regular, he literally set the National League ablaze by his all-round work. This year he's going even better. He's a great hitter, one of the fastest men in the majors and a splendid fielder. He has supplied much of the pep and punch characteristic of this year's Pittsburgh outfit. Yesterday, in the game against Philadelphia, Cuyler got four hits in four trips to the plate and two of them were home runs. Cuyler is giving Max Carey, a team-mate, a hard run for base-stealing honors.

Winning Third Game

Vancouver, Sept. 23.—Fernie's ball teamers still in the hunt for the Gale trophy. With Ed Olson off the firing line yesterday, the miners romped through to fairly easy victory over Fraser Cafe at Athletic Park, and the struggle for Western Canada supremacy will continue for another day at least.

The score was 6-2. Fernie had Aubrey Mounier in trouble on numerous occasions, but only in three rounds found their way to the plate. Four runs in the second frame, and sent a runner across ahead of him. But after that Blair and his speedy left-handed shots had command of the situation.

NOTHING EXCITING

Colorful, snappy and exciting as was Motown's tussle, yesterday's contest was just about the opposite. The pitchers worked slow, the fielders did not show the same energy in chasing down the ball, and Umpire Stages was forced to call off hostilities at the end of eight rounds on account of darkness.

Aileen Guy Wins
Race After Four
Very Keen Heats

Columbus, Sept. 23.—The Horse Review $5,000 futurity for three-year-old trotters, the feature of yesterday's Grand Circuit, proved one of the best colt races of the year, and was won by Aileen Guy, driven by Ben White, only after four stubborn heats had been raced.

The favored Aileen Guy won the first heat handily. In the second she was outfooted home by Guy Ozark. The third heat went to Sam Williams, in the fastest time of the race, although the Cox entry got away to a poor last.

The third heat winners turned for the money in the fourth heat. The time was slow for more than half the mile, but in winning Aileen Guy was compelled to trot the final quarter in 38.4 seconds. Leonard won the first two heats of the Capital City, 2:04 trotting stake, but the third heat went to Ethelinda, which placed in the first two heats. The track was fast but a cold raw wind made racing disagreeable.

Both Coast League
Teams Found Guilty
In Angeles Debacle

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—Both Seattle and Los Angeles baseball teams were at fault in the hunt for the title yesterday, which resulted in the second game of the double-header being terminated in the eighth inning without a winner. The game was called because of darkness.

"Seattle was the worst offender in soiling the ball and delaying the game," the umpire said, "but at the same time the home club, under the rules, is required to co-operate to keep the field clear for play. Delaying the game and failure to keep the field clear for play are both causes for forfeit, but as both of these conditions existed it made a forfeit to either club very impossible."

The ball Stryker used to finish the seventh inning was not only dirty and rough, but flat in one spot. Another was substituted. Root, the umpire reports, spit on this and rubbed it in the dirt, which is contrary to playing rules. This precipitated the trouble which subsequently was prolonged and accentuated by several Seattle players.

"The umpire's report to me states that the game was called because of the physical impossibility of clearing the field in time to resume play with safety before darkness. It was a most difficult situation and perhaps one in which the use of police would have been justified in effecting recalcitrant players," who had been put out of the game.

After a wordy war on the diamond as to whether Root was "roughing" the ball, Seattle third baseman, and Stryker, Seattle pitcher, were ordered to the bench by Umpire Teck. They delayed their departure and in the tumult cushions rained upon the field. Then the umpire called off the game.

Gold Medals Ready To Be Sent
To Weissmuller and Milo

Two beautiful gold medals have been prepared by I. W. Aude, manager of the Crystal Garden, for presentation to Johnny Weissmuller and Conrad Milo of Chicago, for breaking two world's swimming records at the gala held at the Garden by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club on August 4.

The engraving on the back of Weissmuller's medal is as follows:

"For establishing a world's indoor swimming record for 100 yards, free style. Time 51 2-5 seconds."

Milo's medal is engraved on the back as follows:

"For establishing a world's indoor swimming record, 440 yards, back stroke. Time 5 m. 1.1 seconds."

The medals were made by W. H. Wilkerson and will be forwarded at once to the boys who brought much publicity to Victoria for shattering two records here.

Coveleskie Captures
His Twentieth Game

Twirls Washington to Victory Over Cleveland; Champions Must Get Along Without Manager Harris, Who is Nursing Spiked Finger; Cubs Pull Triple Play Against Brooklyn; Cuyler Helps Pittsburgh Win With Two Homers and Two Singles

New York, Sept. 23.—Climbing of the National League pennant by a victory on their home field over Philadelphia was possible for the Pittsburgh Pirates to-day as a result of their triumph over Fletcher's club yesterday, 14-4.

While the senior league leaders were gaining a half-game on the runners-up, New York Giants, the champion Senators in the American League were moving up a full game on the Athletics as a result of a 3-2 victory over Cleveland. Defeat for the Mackmen 1-0 at the hands of St. Louis increased Washington's lead to eight and a half games and necessitates the Senators winning only three of their eleven remaining games to clinch the flag.

Stanley Coveleskie's twentieth pitching victory of the season was attended by an accident which may cripple Washington, in the world's series. Stanley Harris, manager and second-baseman of the champions, suffered an injury to his throwing hand when he was spiked on the middle finger in sliding to third base and officials of the Washington club were doubtful about his chances of starting in the post-season classic.

Browns STILL THIRD
The Browns close verdict over the Athletics, resulting from brilliant hurling by Girard, kept the Sisler entry three games behind the Detroit in the fight for third place in the American League, despite a double decision taken by the Tigers over the Red Sox 11-5 and 7-2.

A liberal sprinkling of home runs featured the splitting of a double-header by the Yanks and White Sox, 11-4 and 4-2. Bob Meusel, batting his 30th and 31st homers of the year. The Braves drew up to within two games of fifth place in the National League, despite their defeat in favor of the ninth successive defeat of Brooklyn. The Robins went 12 innings only to suffer a setback at the hands of the Cubs 2-1.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Pittsburgh, Sept. 23.—The Pirates continued their climb pennantward yesterday by defeating Philadelphia handily, 14 to 4. It was their eighth straight victory. Hazen Cuyler, Pirate outfielder, continued his sensational hitting streak and cracked out four safe blows in four trips to the plate. He hit home runs in the first and second frames. The fifth was a big inning for the locals when they hammered in seven tallies.

TRIPLE PLAY KILLS BROOKLYN
Chicago, Sept. 23.—Burleigh Grimes, veteran right-hand pitcher of the Dodgers, lost one of the toughest games of his career yesterday when Chicago beat him, 2 to 1, in twelve innings, extending Brooklyn's losing streak to nine games. Grimes had the distinction of hitting into two double plays and a triple play. The triple play came in the eighth inning with Corgan on third base and Taylor on first. Grimes grounded to Adams whose throw to Staley forced Taylor and Corgan out.

Pictorial Golf Instruction

By H. B. Martin

The Correct Stance

One sees many queer styles watching the average golfer. Two of the most common types are found in the man who doubles up like a jack-knife or the one who stoops over half way through the swing. Strange to say these golfers sometimes get results with their awkward way. More is the pity.

The correct way to stand is to stoop just a little so that the body is perfectly relaxed. Let the arms drop full length in front of you keeping the elbows close in. When in this position you will find that you are in a better position to hit the ball than if stooped over or standing too erect and stiff.

In this position it is easy to ascertain just how far away the ball should be teed. Let the club rest on the ground. If the toe sticks up the lie of the club is too upright. If the heel is not touching the ground the club is too flat.

Propaganda Issued From Fitzsimmons' Quarters

New York, Sept. 23.—Paddy Mullins, manager of the negro heavyweight challenger, Harry Wills, last night said he had made no plans to meet Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons and representatives of Jack Dempsey in South Bend, Ind., next week for the posting of forfeits in connection with the proposed Dempsey-Wills championship match next summer.

When he read a Chicago news dispatch that he was expected to meet a meeting by R. R. Benton, representative of Dempsey, Mullins described the report as news to him.

Mullins admitted that he had met Andrew Wieseberg, South Bend hotel owner, claimed by Benton to be one of Fitzsimmons' backers, but denied that Wieseberg deposited a "substantial forfeit" here, as claimed by Dempsey's representatives.

"I haven't seen the color of any money and until I do see it, I am not interested," said Mullins.

Walter to Thirty-hole Before
Losing His Balance

Chicago, Sept. 23.—Walter Hagen of Pasadena, Florida, managed to remain in the contest for his title of professional golf champion at Olympia Fields Country Club yesterday, but it took him thirty-nine holes to overcome Al Watrous of Grand Rapids, medalist of the tournament. The former British champion had to score par seventy on the fourth course in the afternoon and lay his opponent a stytle on the third extra hole to survive.

There were no startling upsets in the matches yesterday, although many had picked Gene Sarazen, Metropolitan champion, to defeat Jack Burke. Sarazen was off his game at the start, taking forty-one for the first nine and seventy-eight for the number three course to Burke's seventy-two. The Texan was only two above par on the first nine of number four, and with his morning lead of six up, soon eliminated Sarazen eight to seven.

DIEGEL WINS MATCH
The defeat of Laure Ayton, two and one, by Leo Diegel of New York, Canadian champion, left only El Espinosa and Bill Melhorn to carry the banner for Chicago and one of them must be eliminated in the second round as the pairings bring them together.

Oklahoma, Ohio and Missouri are still represented as Bobby Cruickshank defeated William Leach of Philadelphia, four and three; Ray Deer overcame Abe Espinosa of San Francisco, by the same margin and Ed Dudley of Joplin, Mo., overcame Willie Ogg of Worcester, the only New England contender, two and one, after being three down at the end of the first eighteen and barely square when they turned into the home stretch.

Pro Golfers Play
For Big Stakes At
Los Angeles Links

Will Shoot For $12,000 Early in January; Will Attract
Star Golfers

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 23.—A one-day, thirty-six-hole open golf tournament, with $2,000 in cash at stake, will be staged here in January in connection with the great $10,000 Los Angeles open championship, which is to be played January 7, 8 and 9.

The added money, which will give professional golfers more than $12,000 to shoot at over a period of less than seven days, has been put up by officials of the Virginia Country Club at Long Beach, one of the most exclusive golf and country clubs in California.

Definite plans for the special one-day event, which sets a record in point of prize money for single-day sport, are being worked out. This will give all visiting professionals the opportunity to play in both events without any undue waste of time.

It is planned to hold the $2,000 affair just previous to the $10,000 play and over different Los Angeles links. This will give all visiting professionals the opportunity to play in both events without any undue waste of time.

PRIZE MONEY IN BANK
The prize money for both tournaments is now in the Los Angeles bank, the two events having been underwritten by prominent Southern California sportsmen.

Plans for the $10,000 tournament are coming along nicely. Officials in charge have received word from many of the star pros of the East that they will be here for the play and the event is expected to be one of the greatest link classics staged in recent years.

Both tournaments will be open to all professional players.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—American and French tennis sets will not appear here this week for exhibition matches as scheduled. Tilden, William Johnston, Howard Kinsey and Borotra and Lacoste, French stars, were to have played here to-day and Thursday, but Johnston and Kinsey wanted to get home to California after the national matches last week at Forest Hills, and the others elected to enter the Chicago invitational tournament.

Wall Street To-day

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, Sept. 23 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—Buying operations in the market were aggressive and encouraging, some heavy offerings in minor departments of strength. The tone of the general list was quite irregular, at times having a very definite appearance of a favorable factor was found in the rather softer tendency of money after renewing at 5 per cent, the rate softened and reached a figure of 4 1/2 per cent, though this had no particular encouraging effect on sentiment, as each firming tendency brought out fresh offerings, though in late dealing a rally in the oil department was probably due to some short covering.

The news was mixed in character, the weekly market which described a halt in expansion noticeable in August and early September, saying industry was apparently taking time to consolidate its gains, was not particularly encouraging, also the oil figures, the car loadings and a softer metal market was reported sales at 14 1/2 cents were a few of the factors, particularly new and the cause of some uneasiness and doubt, over the fulfillment of the earlier promising forecasts.

The action of the market this week confirms more clearly our belief that distributive sales have been of such proportions as to create the opinion that same will have to be more thoroughly digested before the market can resume its advancing tendency.

New York, Sept. 23 (By R. P. Clark & Co.)—The evening stock market edition of The Wall Street Journal says: To-day's market was indecisive. Professionals were bearish and their operations for the decline gave the general list a heavy tone the greater part of the day. This attitude on the part of the trade element was due to the belief that the market stood in need of corrective reaction, and also to some indications of weakness in the steel industry, that the Fall trade expansion was slackening.

However, it could not be said that the forces working for lower prices made noteworthy headway. Trading became extremely dull as the reaction proceeded.

American list gained on announcement of an increase in the dividend to an 88 basis. New York Central reached new high ground on the movement at 123 1/2, reflecting accumulation.

Norfolk and Western went 2 1/2 points, in anticipation of favorable developments regarding lease of the road to the Penna. B. & O., was up more than a point at 83 1/2. B. & O. is expected ultimately to turn up with possession of Reading and Jersey Central.

C. & O. was another leader of the forward movement in earlier hours, pushing its advance to 19 1/2. This advance was based in part upon the persistent belief, despite official declaration to the contrary, that the merger would be made for that issue before the merger goes through.

On the basis of 1924 earnings the Nickel Plate would have earned more than $17 a share on common. So far this year net earnings of Erie and Pere Marquette have run well ahead of 1924 and those of Chesapeake and Ohio far ahead. If the new Nickel Plate common is put on a 7 p.c. basis the present merger terms will give Chesapeake and Ohio stockholders the equivalent of $7.15 in dividends, as an independent Chesapeake and Ohio will earn around $21 a share this year, while Chesapeake and Ohio will earn about $19 a share. There is no mystery in the strength of C. & O. merger or no merger.

Stocks displayed a comparatively heavy tone through the noon dealings and into the early afternoon. However, pressure was not insistent and declines among the market leaders were mostly fractional. U. S. steel dipped a 1/4 of a point below Tuesday's close, reaching new low ground on the movement of 122. This decline was due to the less optimistic vein of the weekly steel reviews.

The street is at present witnessing a regular cycle of high rates which at once attract funds from the interior, leading in turn to a surplus supply here, "dumping" at sacrifice rates, withdrawal of funds and a consequent decline in the market.

"HEARTS ADrift"

By MILDRED BARBOUR

(Copyright by Metropolitan Newspaper Service)

She lifted her eyes to his strong profile etched against the soft, green background of the mimosa that sheltered their chairs from the afternoon sun. She liked his high, broad forehead with the dark hair waving smoothly back over level, steady brows. She liked the straight, well-chiselled nose, the firm, pleasant mouth, the chin whose strength was relieved by a cleft. She liked his hand that rested on the arm of the chair—a lean, bronzed hand with long, square tipped fingers, a hand one could cling to and trust, a hand that had a comforting and protecting touch.

Something—a sense of impending loss—suddenly stabbed Patricia. She was frightened by the sensation that swept over her.

To hide what she felt must be obvious she rose quickly.

"I must go in. I promised to help Madame de Marzel with a frock she is making. We'll see you again before you sail?"

He rose too and extended his hand, shaking his head.

"I think not. We're turning out nose to sea at 5 o'clock and I must go aboard very shortly. So, I'm afraid, this is goodbye."

She put her hand in his and smiled up at him and for all he could see she was the same quiet, poised, aloof young woman he had come to love during his sojourn at Madame de Marzel's villa.

"Goodbye," she said softly, "and good luck. It's always easier for the ones who go than for the ones who stay. You have new scenes new experiences. We have only memories."

She left him and went, with her light, quick step to the veranda where Cartwright sat staring moodily at the sea. She stopped a moment and spoke to him and Patricia watched her, watched until the screen door closed after her.

At 5 o'clock it was she who watched from her bedroom window and saw the Nastasia skimming the waves like a seagull, grow smaller and smaller in the distance—a little gleaming fleck of white on a vast, blue, rolling sea.

DISILLUSIONMENT

While Patricia stood at her window watching the Nastasia steaming out to sea, Madge lay face downward on her bed and wept her heart out. If Patricia looked after the departing boat and was puzzled by her own feelings towards its handsome owner, it was not so with Madge. She writhed on the daintily canopied Marie Antoinette bed in Madame de Marzel's guest room and told herself that she couldn't go on living without Tony Patterson's love and presence.

It meant little to her that he had gone away voluntarily and without speaking a word of love. Her assurance of her power was too great to allow that consideration to disturb her. Maybe he didn't actually love her now, but she admitted reluctantly—but he would, in time, if she only had the chance to exercise all her wiles. At heart she still believed that it was Cartwright's presence which had kept Patterson from making love to her.

That night she refused to come down to dinner, on the plea of a headache. The old French servant brought her chicken and salad and a plate on a tray and smiled wisely when she noted the keen appetite of the supposed invalid.

Madame de Marzel pretended great solicitude for the sake of Cartwright, who accepted Madge's absence grimly. He knew, and both Madame de Marzel and Patricia knew that he knew the cause of Madge's indisposition.

"Poor Madge has these headaches frequently," Patricia remarked to him as they sat on the balcony having coffee after dinner. Madame de Marzel had gone to offer sal volatile to her sufferer.

"Hm! She always has them when she can't get her own way," he replied without illusion.

Patricia was silent for a moment, looking out across the sea to the edge of the horizon over which the Nastasia had vanished that afternoon. She was feeling unaccountably sad and depressed. Patterson had been a pleasant companion, an interesting talker, who had held together the little group of strangely assorted people who dwelt under Madame de Marzel's roof. With him as the centre of after-dinner conversation, everyone had become congenial and the past—no less than the future—had temporarily ceased to exist.

"Mr. Cartwright," Patricia said at last, hesitatingly putting into words the question that had disturbed her for some time, "you don't love Madge as completely as you once did, do you?"

"Why do you ask?" he demanded after a second's pause. "Do I seem less affectionate and considerate?"

"Yes—you do," she admitted frankly. "You say little, critical things about her and several times I've overheard you speak to her without respect—almost brutally. You and she have only each other in all the world, you know. You've chosen to live your lives together despite convention and law. If it is worth the price, it is worth courtesy and consideration for Madge."

He puffed thoughtfully at his cigarette, for a time before he answered slowly.

"You're putting into the words the very thought that has been going round and round in my brain for some time past: 'Was it worth the price?'"

"You're tired of Madge?" Patricia asked quietly.

"Not tired exactly," he weighed his words carefully, as if he hoped to discover the true state of his own heart—a state not yet fully clear to him.

"Not tired exactly," he repeated. "Only a bit disillusioned and fed up with a situation which seems to have no outcome. Surely it must be evident to you—you're a clever girl—that Madge no longer loves me?"

This time it was Patricia who measured her words carefully.

"I have no knowledge of that from Madge, Mr. Cartwright. If you refer to her restlessness and occasional moodiness, that is easily explainable as the very natural reaction of a character like Madge, who lives for gaiety and amusement, at finding herself really an exile from society, almost a prisoner in a very quiet household."

"I wasn't referring to her sulks, as you very well know, Miss Fleming, whether you choose to admit it or not. It is this fellow Patterson that I had in mind when I stated that Madge no longer loved me."

Patricia rose and set aside her empty coffee cup.

"You must excuse me, I think. I have no right to discuss Madge with you and when I do, it is only because I want to see things worked out for the best. I don't want her to be forced to pay too heavily for her adventure."

"Adventure is a good term," he replied moodily. "I'm beginning to believe that that is all it ever was. A pretty sordid adventure, too."

"Why don't you talk to Madge frankly?" Patricia suggested.

"Maybe I will," he agreed. "Maybe I will. Things can't go on like this."

After breakfast the following morning when Madge had recovered from her fictitious headache, he asked her to accompany him to the garden. He had something to say to her.

CRUEL TRUTHS

Madge followed Cartwright to the garden, in response to his request, with obvious indifference.

She was listless after her night of weeping.

"Aren't you afraid the garden will be too damp for you—er—rheumatism, or whatever it is?" she inquired maliciously. "There was a heavy dew last night and the sun's not very high yet."

His only answer was to draw two garden chairs opposite each other and motion her to accept one.

She sank into it and, concealing a yawn, stared broodingly out over the sea, sparkling in the sunlight of a perfect morning.

"Madge," Cartwright began at length, "what's happened to us? Once we loved each other enough to throw convention to the winds. We ran away together, deliberately exiling ourselves from our world, and we thought just being together was worth the price. Of course, we didn't foresee that Alma would stick to her refusal to divorce me. We didn't dream that Bannister would do what he did. But the fact remains that we cared enough for each other to risk ostracism. I repeat, what's happened to us?"

She shrugged without removing her glance from the sea.

"How should I know? And why ask me anyway, when it seems to be you who are doing the complaining?"

"That's being rather unfair, Madge, to shift the responsibility onto my shoulders. Can you honestly deny that the situation hasn't changed, that you are unhappy and bored with me, that you haven't lost your love for me?"

She sighed and moved restlessly in her chair.

"Of course, I'm bored and unhappy," she answered impatiently. "What else could you expect me to be? Never going anywhere to a dance, or a bridge, or a luncheon. Never seeing smart people. Never having a chance to wear pretty gowns. It's ridiculous to expect me to rejoice over that, isn't it?"

"You've answered only one question," he reminded her. "How about the other? Where is the love you had for me?"

"Oh, but you're maddening!" she twisted restlessly in her chair. "But if you will persist with this ridiculous discussion, let me ask you a few questions? Do you fancy that you're so romantic and interesting when you sit around all day and glare? Do you think a woman can be mad about a man who grows and complains all the time or else keeps sulky silence? When I first met you, even after we'd come here together, you used to make love to me, say pretty things, praise my appearance, even take me to Cannes and the few places we dared to go. Now you sit with your foot propped up on a cushion and don't even try to be interesting."

He was silent for a long time, while his cigarette burned itself out between his fingers. Finally he said:

"Since we chose to make our discussion purely in the form of questions, here's another for you, Madge. Do you believe that a man can be devoted, clever, interesting and entertaining, when he, too, is cooped up in the four walls of a country house at a quiet seaside, with no companions except three women, two of whom are merely polite to him because the situation demands it, while the third flaunts her indifference, is angry, resentful and sulky by turns? Why, I believe that except for the tolerant presence of our hostess and the tactful efforts of your friend, Miss Fleming, we'd have depended to the unspeakable level where we'd be fighting like fishwives."

Morality was made for man, not man for morality.

W. C. Moresby in Defending
Joe Ping Claims Case is a Frame-up

Defending his client in the city police court yesterday, W. C. Moresby, counsel for Joe Ping, asserted that the entire case was a frame-up and that Ping was unjustly accused. Ping was charged with having opium and cocaine in his possession and was arrested, with other inmates of 519 Cormorant Street, on September 2.

The prosecution, Mr. Moresby stated, depended largely upon the evidence of Lee Sing and Lee Ming, informers.
Joe Ping, the accused, on the witness stand, swore that the informer, Lee Sing's evidence was not true when he said that he had purchased opium from him.
Magistrate George Jay having heard the case for the defence, reserved his decision until Saturday.

MUNICIPALITIES STEADILY TREAD HARD ROAD BACK TO STABILITY AND PROSPERITY

Municipal Inspector Robert Baird Gives Union of B. C. Municipalities Striking Examples of Progress; No Investor in British Columbia Municipal Bonds Has Yet Lost a Dollar is Proud Record Set.

Holding the close attention of a crowded session of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, Municipal Inspector Robert Baird, last night at the City Hall council chamber, delivered a masterly summary of the progress of the municipalities of the Province towards recovery from the jorrides of the boom days of 1911-1914.

Following recital of dramatic instances of municipal recovery from the depths of debt and insolvency, illustrating the determination of the Government that "no investor in municipal bonds should lose one dollar," Mr. Baird concluded an address of intense gross indebtedness of the municipalities has in that time increased very little, if any.

BUYING DEAD HORSES
"We have, I think, some reason to regret the borrowings of money in the earlier days referred to, but that is past history. We have also reason to regret the terms of the borrowing and I trust that mistakes of this kind are also only of the past. Some of the municipalities will be paying over a long term of years for works that are wholly dead, the lifetime of the work not being at all taken into consideration in connection with the life-time of the debentures. There is a great temptation to postpone the payments in the hope that the good time coming will easily take care of them, but the good time does not always come," was Inspector Baird's warning.

CARELESS OF FUTURE
"We have also reason to be pleased at the more serious consideration that is given to retirement of debenture obligations. It will be recalled that, at one time, sinking fund obligations were taken very lightly. The undertaking given when bonds were issued that certain steps would be taken to provide funds for their redemption, was not always carried out as it should have been; in fact in many cases it was given no consideration at all.
A REVOLUTION
"It is, I think, safe to say that the

"A few years ago the greatest interest in the municipal field lay in the borrowing of money and spending it in the work of preparation for an overflowing population. In the years 1912 and 1913 the municipalities of the Province incurred liabilities to the amount of forty-three million dollars; more than that, in fact, because the borrowings for local improvements undertaken in those years did not take place for some time after. During the past decade new liabilities incurred have been within the range of from half a million to a million and a half dollars per year, and the attitude now assumed, with respect to this feature of our municipal budget, should give assurance to the investing public that the municipalities of the Province are doing their best to give them honest protection."

"Our collectors' rolls in recent years have almost changed in their character. The theory that taxes were as certain as death was easily broken up in the years following 1914. Collectors' rolls carried huge sums which could never by any possibility be collected. Municipal councils could never from their annual tax levy, have the slightest idea of how much money would be available for expenditure during the year. Properties were losing value, but it appeared to be necessary to settle on them the same amount of taxes as before, whether there was any possibility of getting it or not. The situation which developed at that time was one which could not be adjusted in short time, but it is getting better. If sound policies of assessment and taxation are followed it will be cleared up in the near future. To-day we are trying to readjust burdens and to adopt a policy which will enable us to get what we levy."

FINANCING JUGGLERY
"We are also to-day not disposed to get theories with the sources from which our money for general revenue arise. Here again the years that are past recorded some serious mistakes. We were not entirely free from the charge of having used money for ordinary expenditure which had been raised under laws for special purposes. We were not entirely innocent in the matter of using money which had been raised by tax levy for the retirement of debts and there have been cases where the ordinary revenue was supplemented by borrowings from the Bank, afterwards to be converted into debenture issues."

BAD DAYS PAST
"I have dwelt to some extent on some of the mistaken policies of years gone by, with the view to pointing out the hardship which is imposed in the period of recovery from such policies. Those times are past. Some will say that they are passed only until we again find ourselves in the mental chaos which so frequently accompanies good times, yet we trust that they are not likely to return in this Province. It is true that in times of depression we think more of the matter of debt, but in the midst of a boom we are too busy to think, yet I am confident that we can rely upon a broadened interest in our municipal affairs, and a greater regard which I believe the municipalities of the present day have for the future. We can rely upon a reasonably sound administration in those larger matters of public policy," was his confident prophecy.

REMARKABLE RECORD
"We hear a good deal, from time to time, about the records of the various Provinces of Canada in the matter of payments of debts. There have, it is true, in Canada been cases where municipal corporations have proved to be incapable of discharging their obligations. While the Provinces of Canada have, on the whole, no reason to be ashamed of their record, I think that the Province of British Columbia has a very good reason to be proud. It is important that those who are interested in the municipal government of this Province should know what our record is and I will, therefore, go into a few of those particulars with which you should be familiar."

The development of the Province of British Columbia has necessarily been of such a character as to invite trouble. We have had substantial communities arise in our mining and lumbering areas, flourish for a while, and with the moving of the industry disappear entirely. I visited recently the site of the former City of Phoenix, which I believe at one time had a population of from twelve to fifteen hundred people, and where there is now but one person living. The city rose according to the requirements of the mining industry in that district and disappeared when it was no longer needed.

NONE LOST IN BONDS
"We have had to face difficulties, in this respect, in many places in British Columbia, yet it is a subject for congratulation that, up to the present, no investor has lost money by investment in British Columbia municipal bonds. We have had, it is true, some cases of difficulty. Some of them have been quickly adjusted, others we hope are on the way.
"In the year 1913 the City of Sandon, a mining town, was found to be in a position where it could not carry on. It was accordingly placed, by the Government, under a receivership and the existing indebtedness of $10,000 was paid off in a few years."

FACES BURDEN BRAVELY
"In 1918 the Municipality of South Vancouver became seriously embarrassed by the approaching maturity of short-term obligations to the amount of $180,000. It was certain that the municipality would have grave difficulty in disposing of securities to an amount sufficient to relieve the situation. The Legislature, to insure continuance of administration in that community, provided guarantees, by the Province, of a debenture loan to be used to lend its assistance until the beginning of the year 1921, when administration under a council with full power was restored and Provincial guarantees were released. The municipality is still carrying a heavy load, due to the nature of the locality and in part also to the unwise financial policy adopted by certain of the previous councils, but they have shouldered their burden in a commendable spirit. They did not at any time admit the possibility of defeat and are at the present time carrying on very satisfactorily."

"The City of Greenwood, also a mining community, had a series of debentures maturing in 1921 which it was unable to meet and by the "City of Greenwood Relief Act, 1921" (Second Session), an arrangement was made by which all debentures were declared to be due and debenture holders were entitled to a pro rata distribution of all moneys available after payment of the necessary costs of administration, expenditures being also subject to the approval of a trustee appointed by the bond holders. This arrangement has been working since that time. All interest is being paid and reductions are being made in the principal of the debt. "The City of Port Couillard was obliged in 1922 to suspend payment of interest on its bonded debt, and the interest became one full year in arrears. Payments, however, have since resumed, and while the situation cannot be said to be promising as regards the prospect of immediate recovery, yet in view of the conditions which prevailed at the time of the first default a really satisfactory progress has been made, and I trust that by a careful administration the

PAID UP ALL DEBTS
"The City of Phoenix, to which I have already referred, was deserted entirely in 1921 and in that year the Legislature incorporated the city, but its liabilities were all paid and there was a balance over at the time of its incorporation."

"The record of our municipal administration, therefore, is that up to the present no person has lost money by investing in municipal bonds in this Province. In two cases that I have referred to the payment of principal or interest has been deferred, but we are hopeful that in the end the whole situation will be satisfactorily cleared up. The record is I think one of which we may well be proud.

FORGET ALL FEARS

"I have to confess that I have at times had gloomy feelings with regard to the future of our municipalities. It has not always been clear that they could discharge their liabilities and at the same time provide the services which the public in these days expect. We should now be safe in relieving our minds of any such fears. We need ask only a continuation of the earlier and sounder policies which are gaining ground every year. We cannot risk our public credit by financial experiments which will have uncertain results, we cannot buy prosperity by piling up liabilities and moreover we are seldom increasing our own prosperity when we try to pass on our burdens to the next generation. It is soundness of policy which has brought about an improvement in our condition in the past few years and is only on a safe and sound policy that we can build well for the future."
